The University of Wisconsin—Madison
School of Social Work

The University of Wisconsin-Madison School of Social Work invites applications for a Clinical Faculty position beginning August 24, 2015. The School seeks an outstanding practice educator with social work practice experience in the fields of mental health or persistent and serious mental illness.

Position description: Clinical faculty teach two classroom practice courses each semester and facilitate a field unit and integrative seminar throughout the academic year. Some of the duties associated with the field unit and seminar include developing and maintaining placement sites and conducting student performance evaluations with agency supervisors. Clinical faculty are expected to be active participants in the life of the School and University and to foster linkages between the social work practice community and the School. These instructional academic staff positions (9 month appointments) have initial 3-year appointments with expectation of renewal based on teaching excellence.

Qualifications: M.S.W. (Ph.D. preferred); university teaching experience and 6 years post-M.S.W. social work practice experience in the fields of mental health or persistent and serious mental illness required.

To apply: Please send the following documents electronically: a cover letter describing your experience in social work education and mental health practice, and your teaching philosophy; a current curriculum vitae, three letters of reference reflecting your most recent experience in social work education and practice, and evidence of teaching quality (i.e., teaching evaluations and course syllabi) to facultysearchcommittee@socwork.wisc.edu. Questions may be directed to Professor Betty Kramer (ejkramer@wisc.edu). Documents that cannot be sent electronically may be mailed to:

Betty Kramer, Search Committee Chair
School of Social Work
