I. Course Description

801 Field Practice and Integrative Seminar IV
Continuation of Social Work 800.

An approved advanced generalist seminar and placement linked to areas of focus. Seminar and placement require a minimum of 20 hours/week. The first course (SW800) of the two-semester advanced field sequence. The second course (SW801) of the two-semester field sequence.

Attributes and Designations: This course counts toward the 50% graduate coursework requirement.

Course Requisites: MSW Student

How Credit Hour is Met: The credit standard for this course is met by an expectation of a total of 320 hours of student engagement with the courses learning activities (45 hours per credit), which include regularly scheduled instructor:student meeting times (Mondays for 2.5 hours over 13 weeks), reading, writing, field placement and other student work as described in the syllabus.

II. Course Overview

This is a two semester course with students in the same field unit and placement for both semesters. The field unit provides placements in a variety of government, human service, and community settings. This unit is usually for advanced practice students. (While the course may at times accept generalist practice year students, this description is for advanced practice (800) level.) The perspective is generalist social work with an emphasis on macrolevel practice. In preparing advanced practice year students for autonomous practice, mastery of the core competencies is augmented by the development, integration and application of advanced behaviors specific to a focus area (e.g. children, youth, and family welfare).

Advanced generalist year students spend 20 hours per week, including the integrative seminar, for a total of 320 hours per semester. For field placement purposes, the semester is considered 15 weeks. The 15 weeks includes exam week; if students prefer not to be in placement this week, or to reduce placement hours this week, may choose to work with their agency supervisor to spend more hours in earlier weeks. Please note the number of seminars is 13 at 2.5 hours for each for a total of 32 hours.
January 19, 2018

Students are not permitted to end their field placement early, which is the reason a limit is set as to how many hours students may spend in field each week. The key to ensuring students have the most beneficial field experience is the combination of attending the field seminar while being placed in the field, which necessitates that students not finish their placement early. In addition, a commitment is made between the student, the agency supervisor, and the field faculty member to continue the student’s educational experience until May 2018. Field settings require a commitment of two consecutive semesters of placement, due to the nature of agency needs and services provided, as well as the time needed for student’s professional development. All settings provide opportunity to learn advanced generalist social work roles.

In the fall semester, students will be exposed to information about the concepts and events in the development and administration of social policy and its impact on human services organizations and clients. Emphasis will be on macropractice, consideration of policy issues from multiple viewpoints, and organizational, administrative, and legislative levels of policy-making and implementation. Specific areas of learning and skill development within the generalist social policy practitioner model include political and policy analysis, policy briefings and report writing, legislative advocacy and coalition building, policy and program planning, budgeting, implementation, and evaluation.

The spring semester will be focused on additional administrative content and skills including grant writing, program planning, supervision, development and evaluation. Students will develop an array of macro skill social work practice competencies over the course of the academic year.

III. Learning Outcomes: Competency Descriptions and Dimensions (Field and Seminar)

Field education is comprised of two interrelated components: 1) The field placement, and 2) the Integrative Seminar. Together, these elements are the means by which students become competent practitioners at the generalist (400-401) or advanced generalist (800-801) level.

The Integrative Seminar provides students with regular opportunities for integration of course content and field experiences. The integrative seminar connects the theoretical and conceptual content of the classroom with generalist (400-401) or advanced generalist (800-801) practice in field settings. In seminar, as we consult with one another and reflect on practice dilemmas, we examine practice problems in the context of social work values and how we professionally think and feel (cognitive and affective processes) incorporating each of the identified social work competencies listed in Appendix A of the syllabus.

In seminar, a generalist perspective is used to analyze and reflect on entry (400-401) and advanced social work (800-801) practice situations students encounter in their placement. The generalist practitioner combines multidisciplinary knowledge bases, problem analysis skills, and multiple practice methods to apply creative solutions to the problems and situational needs of people in their various life roles, or social and economic realities. Central to the generalist perspective are concepts of multi-level person-environment assessment and intervention, multiple targets, and multiple methods. The field practice and integrative seminar blends agency-based practice with practice theory, human behavior, social work policy/services, and social work research. The advanced generalist perspective builds on generalist practice adapting and extending the knowledge, values and skills to address more complex direct practice situations and to be reflexive social work leaders capable of addressing unique, ambiguous, unstable and complex situations.

Social Work Education is framed by a competency-based approach to curriculum design. At the conclusion of their education, social work students are expected to be competent in 9 core areas. Competency is achieved through mastery of course content as measured through course activities, readings and assignments and behaviors learned in field experiences, and which are derived from social work knowledge, values, skills and cognitive and affective processes. The objective of this course is to help student demonstrate understanding and mastery of the knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes relevant to the competencies described in Appendix A.

In placement, students demonstrate mastery of a set of behaviors tied to entry and/or advanced practice social work competencies that are related to the mission and goals of social work. The behaviors associated with the competencies addressed in this field course may be found in “Student Learning Plan” and the “Evaluation Instrument” found in Appendix B.

IV. Course Content
Time: 9:00-11:30 a.m., with one break. Class at SSW Room 229 unless otherwise noted.

W1, Monday, January 29, 2018: Welcome Back!
Welcome Back and Introduction to Second Semester

- Check-in/consultation
- Review syllabus, key themes, and assignments
- Discuss change agent project plan
- Review new Code of Ethics; consider IFSW Ethics as well

Readings:

W2, Monday, February 5, 2018: State Programs to Promote Mental Health and Trauma Informed Work (At DHS, 201 W. Wilson)

- Field Issues/Situations for Consultation/Collaborative Problem Solving
- Guest/host presentations by Robin Matthies and Kim Eithun on state system reform work and strategies to improve mental health

• Discussion of strategies and policies to support stronger community level work.

Reading:

- TBD

NOTE: The schedule represents the agenda of activities the field faculty intends to follow during the term. However, faculty reserves the right to modify or change this schedule at any time based on the issues and topics of emerging interest or importance, and/or specific needs of students in the light of their work or other changes.

V. Text and Reading Materials

Students are expected to read and to come to class prepared having thought carefully about required assigned reading. Students are expected to consider the connection from the readings to their own placement and come prepared to reflect on insights or shortcomings in the readings from their own practice and experience.

In addition to required readings in the syllabus, each student is expected to identify at least 2 important readings about populations, practice, or policy at their placement agency. These should be identified in consultation with the site supervisor and should be identified in the learning plan. In the final semester evaluation, students should report progress on key topics given those readings and other activities.

There may be additional readings. Any additions to the reading list will be made available on Canvas at least one week in advance of the class section where the material will be discussed.

VI. Evaluation: Assignments, Grading and Methods

Assignments and Expectations

In order to achieve the competencies, timely completion of assignments is expected. Students needing assistance with written assignments are expected to use available resources (e.g., the Writing Lab, 6171 Helen C. White Hall). Carefully review the syllabus, assignments, expectations and evaluation criteria for this semester. Immediately ask the field faculty member and/or agency supervisor, as applicable, about any information, assignments, expectations, or instructions you do not understand. In compliance with University Graduate School rules that graduate students be assessed separately from undergraduate students, there are criteria (outlined in the grading rubrics) specific to graduate students in the expectations and assignments for this course.

Learning Plan

Learning plan drafts are due February 12 and final versions are due on February 26. Final learning plans must be approved by field supervisors and field faculty and signed by students, agency supervisors and field faculty. The field faculty provides students with a framework for social work practice and assistance in self-assessment in order to formulate a learning plan. In the learning plan, students, in collaboration with agency supervisors and field faculty, must identify the methods by which the behaviors outlined in the syllabus will be observed. For example; relative to competency 2.1.8, “employ diverse strategies to negotiate, mediate and advocate with and on behalf of diverse clients and constituencies in a focus area,” the student and agency supervisor could agree to the following: student will propose a plan for advocating to be approved by the supervisor and provide an outcome report relative to their advocacy work for the supervisor’s review and feedback. This indicates how the student will achieve this behavior (an advocacy plan and outcome report) and how it will be observed (e.g., supervisor’s approval, review and feedback regarding the plan and outcome report). The “methods to observe and demonstrate achievement” must be connected to the nine competencies.

The learning plan, sometimes referred to as a “learning contract,” is a critical document that provides a framework for learning goals and practice skills that the student will work towards throughout the semester in their field placement. A learning plan is written each semester and outlines learning opportunities, activities, and responsibilities of the student and agency supervisor. The learning plan will be used to guide fieldwork and evaluate progress at the end of each semester. This learning plan is meant to be an organizational aid to help initiate, plan, and update/revise your field experience. It is not intended to be a substitute for regular supervisory contact and educational consultation with faculty and professional staff. Students needing assistance in completing it should contact the field faculty member.

Integrative Seminar

There is a required weekly seminar with the field faculty member. The seminar is used for integrating theory and practice. The format for the seminar includes consultation about practice problems and issues, faculty instruction and student presentations, guest speakers and learning activities. Students are responsible for reading all assigned material so that they are fully prepared to participate in discussion and class activities.

Each student is expected to share field and other related experiences in order to enhance the integration and application of social work concepts with practice through active consultation, problem solving and support. Given the diversity of students and their life experiences and the various agency placement settings, populations-at-risk, and the human rights issues, active participation is critical to learning about various perspectives and social work in public and private child welfare agencies. There will be time set aside for you to talk about your field experience and issues that you are encountering, both to seek consultation around challenges you are experiencing and to enhance each other’s learning. Coming prepared to share, discuss and learn, is extremely important! Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner, similar to what would be observed in the student’s field placement.

Participation and Professionalism

Quality participation includes the ability to look at oneself and critically analyze strengths and areas for growth. Quality participation also includes providing support and feedback to peers as appropriate, as well as seeking feedback and consultation from peers. Those whose participation clearly demonstrates having completed readings and other assignments, the ability to integrate social work concepts with field and other experiences, AND the ability to fully engage in problem solving and other exercises (presenting social work issues or other perspectives for discussion as well as responding to other students who present issues) will earn high marks in this area. Participation can be challenging for some students.

Professionalism includes being prepared and present in every class. It includes arriving on time. The policy for this course is to deduct points each time you are late to class unless the reason for your tardiness is deemed acceptable by the field faculty member. In other words, if you arrive to class after we have started, you can assume you will be deducted one or more points unless your tardiness is approved by me. You are expected to demonstrate an ability to listen to and ask questions of your peers in a respectful, thoughtful manner consistent with the values of social work. It also involves the ability to discuss challenges in one’s field placement in a respectful manner. This includes the manner in which we discuss anyone we work with, whether that is clients or your agency supervisor or other staff. Discussing challenges in field placement in a way that is akin to “gossiping” will not be tolerated. I recommend adopting the practice of discussing issues related to clients and colleagues as if they were in the room. Students should demonstrate curiosity, an ability to examine assumptions, values and practice challenges, and the ability to contribute to a shared space in which it is safe to do so. Please see the field faculty member early in the semester if you need any assistance in this or any other areas.

Supervision, Consultation, and Evaluation
Students have three sources of supervisory guidance, consultation and evaluation: the agency supervisor, the field faculty member, and the seminar group. The required weekly field seminar is used for integrating theory and practice. The format for the seminar includes consultation about practice problems and issues, faculty instruction and student presentations, guest speakers and learning activities. Each student will complete a field learning plan reflective both of the competencies and their particular learning needs. Students are responsible for defining and achieving the competencies and behaviors suggesting, organizing, and documenting activities; and fully participating in the field instruction process. Students are required to receive weekly supervision from their agency supervisor. Consultation is available each week during the seminar meetings and students can seek additional consultation from their agency supervisor or field faculty member, as needed.

Practice Question Each Week
Each week, we will identify a key practice question for the following week. This question will be shared with site supervisors and can be considered/discussed at placement in advance of the class. This is one of several efforts to integrate theory and practice and to challenge students to think critically, analyze, question, and problem solve issues in social work practice. Each student is expected to critically think about the agency and practice (e.g., using observations, interviews, readings) in order to answer the ‘practice question of the week’ and come prepared for discussion in seminar. Students are, of course, encouraged to propose questions of their own for discussion, including those which extend beyond the local agency level to community, national, global policies and programs and implications for practice. Students are also encouraged to bring the practice questions to supervision with their agency supervisors for further processing and reflection.

Student Roles in Field Seminar
In addition to active participation each week in seminar, two assignments will provide students a more formal role in seminar leadership. One time in the course of the semester, and in collaboration with others in the class, students will be called on to lead check in and consultation. This is an opportunity for students to practice group facilitation skills, to carefully consider ways to secure input and insight from classmates, and enhance all of our learning in field. Students are encouraged to be creative in this work and find ways to build interaction, group work, or engaging activities into the planned discussion of the previous week’s work.
The second student assignment in field seminar will be a presentation on a specific topic that integrates reading material with experience in the placement. Students will offer a 10-minute discussion of work inside their agency as it relates to readings from class. Students will reflect on key steps in social work practice – engagement, assessment, action, and evaluation – and reflect on the connections between readings and agency practice.

Individual Meetings and Out-of-Class Contact
Students are encouraged to meet with me at any time during the semester. I am happy to meet before or after class but would prefer advance notice, if possible. We can also arrange a time to meet or talk by phone on non-class days. I am most accessible by email, which I check daily. I will respond to emails within 24 hours during the business week (Monday thru Friday).

Meetings Together with your Agency Supervisor
Open and frequent communication among all parties over the course of the semester will help keep all of us on track. At the end of the semester, you and I will meet with your agency supervisor at the agency for evaluation of your work at the field placement. There are evaluation forms for this end-of-semester meeting that your supervisor and you will each fill out, and then share with each other, before our end-of-semester meeting.

Use of supervision includes being prepared for discussions or meetings with your supervisor as well as other professionals in the agency. Preparation would include critically thinking about and being ready to discuss and process the following:

- issues, situations, challenges, opportunities, and/or successes experienced in practice;
- what you have done or would do (e.g., options, interventions) in addressing issues or concerns and any specific questions you have regarding the matter;
- the learning plan (e.g., reviewing progress on a couple methods of achievement and its respective competency each time);
- seminar discussions and assignments, including the practice questions of the week; and
- other topics for discussion identified by the field faculty member, agency supervisor, or student

You will also be meeting with your supervisor for a mid-term evaluation and with your supervisor and field faculty for the end-of-the semester evaluation. See the section on evaluation and grading for more information. For more information on supervision, consultation and evaluation and educational roles, including those of students, please see below and the Field Education Handbook, section I.

The Agency Supervisor has the following responsibilities:

1. Participate in student selection/placement process.
2. Work with student and faculty in development of learning plans and supervisory arrangements.
3. Orient student to agency, work unit, and practice area.
4. Provide ongoing practice supervision.
5. Possible teamwork with student.
6. Provide good professional role model.
7. Consult with student on professional growth and development.
8. Provide student with ongoing constructive criticism and final evaluation.

The Field Faculty has the following responsibilities:

1. Responsible for student selection and community placement.
2. Develop and approve learning plan and supervisory arrangements with student and practicum supervisor.
3. Teach field unit seminar to provide relevant theoretical, policy, and problem content.
4. Share in ongoing practice supervision/consultation and help student integrate seminar content with placement experience.
5. Provide good professional role model.
6. Maintain regular contact (at least monthly) with practicum supervisor to monitor student performance, ensure learning opportunities, deal with performance problems, etc.
7. Consult with student on professional growth and development
8. Help student integrate constructive criticism and responsible for evaluation and grading.

For more detail, see “Summary of Educational Roles in Working with Field Students” in the Field Education Handbook.

Evaluation and Grading

Grading. Evaluation is on-going between the student, agency supervisor(s) and the field faculty member. The field faculty member receives feedback on your performance from you and your agency supervisor(s) and determines the grade earned. Your education is a shared responsibility, so always feel free to seek and give feedback, ask questions, make appointments, and do what you need to do to keep yourself actively learning, excited, and happy in your field setting.

Forty percent (40%) of the final grade will be based on the thoughtfulness and preparedness of your participation in seminar and the quality of your written assignments, which are all a part of professional behavior. Written assignments must be turned in by the specified due dates unless specific arrangements have been made with me in advance. Students are expected to attend all seminars, with reasonable accommodations being made as specified in University policy or for other situations such as illness, emergencies and, especially for those commuting from outside of Madison when travel is discouraged due to inclement weather. Students are responsible for informing me of absences from class in advance if possible, and for following up with me as soon as possible regarding that day’s seminar content. Frequent absences from field unit meetings and/or failure to follow up may result in a grade reduction for this course. Completion of required readings and active participation in seminars, including arriving on time and demonstrating an ability to listen to and ask questions of your peers, will also figure importantly into this portion of your overall grade.

More specifically:
Regarding professionalism, field faculty will be looking for evidence of thoughtful reading of assigned materials, curiosity, ability to examine assumptions, values and practice challenges, and the ability to contribute to a shared space in which it is safe to do so.
For the written assignments this semester, field faculty will be looking for thoroughness in all of the elements noted earlier in this syllabus.

If you have not completed the required hours for field practicum by the end of the semester, you will receive a grade of Incomplete for the semester (assuming that you are otherwise passing the course and have obtained advance approval from field faculty of your plan to complete the hours).

Sixty percent (60%) of the grade is based on actual fieldwork taking into account the degree to which the competencies are met through observable behaviors, including the student’s performance in the classroom and in the field. The student’s demonstration of professionalism, both in seminar and in the field, and as outlined in this syllabus, will be included in the student’s final grade. Students are expected to achieve the competencies of the field course through the observable behaviors; complete the required hours per semester, cooperate fully with agency staff and the field faculty member; seek clarification of feedback when needed; apply feedback across practice; and strive for their best performance in all field assignments. This is especially important because field practice differs from most other university courses in that the placement entails not only educational outcomes for the student, but also professional responsibilities to clients, agencies, and the community. As such, when students engage clients and assume service obligations, there are ongoing professional and ethical matters to be considered as well as the learning needs of the student. Also, considerable time and effort is spent on the part of the agency supervisors and faculty to plan and deliver a good learning opportunity. Evaluation and grading, therefore, reflect the overall quality of the performance, not merely completion of the activities. The field evaluation instrument with the competencies and respective behaviors; the student’s performance in seminar, the student’s learning plan; and the progress summary will serve as guides in the evaluation process.

The following components will be assessed based on the student’s performance:

End of semester evaluation instrument:
- Utilization of supervision (listens to and accepts critical feedback; ability for self-reflection and open discussion of challenges; appropriately seeks consultation with asking questions, sharing concerns and ideas; preparedness for supervision meetings)
- Participation in field placement activities (taking initiative to seek learning opportunities; shows motivation; appropriate interactions with other staff; ability to work within an interdisciplinary team)
- Cultural and ethical components of field practice (displays cultural competence with staff and clients; awareness of biases and ability to discuss these in supervision; consideration of culture and the social environment in case conceptualization; ability to identify ethical dilemmas and discuss these in supervision; adheres to NASW Code of Ethics)
- Clinical documentation (ability to work with the technology; content of notes; clinical language; thoroughness, timeliness)
- Professionalism (reliability; thoroughness; organization; adhering to boundaries; time management; ability to work responsibly and independently; completes tasks as assigned; participation and preparedness; attire; uses professional judgment)
- Attendance and timeliness (in seminar and in field)
Practice Skills:

- Engagement skills (relates well to clients and staff, ability to build rapport; ability to convey warmth, empathy and genuineness; ability to demonstrate active listening)
- Assessment and skills (ability to gather relevant information; ability to articulate a comprehensive formulation; conceptualization skills)
- Planning and goal setting (ability to develop a clear plan with specific goals and observable, measurable objectives)
- Intervention (ability to implement interventions in line with goals and objectives; ability to understand and incorporate best practice interventions)
- Evaluation (ability to evaluate interventions and progress toward goals; ability for self-reflection on performance)

Final responsibility for grading the student’s performance in the placement rests with the field faculty member. However, considerable weight in grading will be given to the student’s agency supervisor’s assessment of the progress the student has made in fulfilling the stated competencies and the quality of the student’s work in the field placement. Field faculty will periodically review your progress both with you and with the agency supervisor and joint meetings will be held with you if indicated or desired by you or your agency supervisor. A mid-semester meeting can be scheduled if the student, agency supervisor, or field faculty member request a meeting.

In late April/early May, the student, agency supervisor and field faculty member will meet together to discuss your progress in accomplishing your learning objectives for the semester and to evaluate the overall quality of your field performance. This discussion will be informed in part by a self-evaluation form you will be asked to complete prior to our meeting, and a parallel version of the form that your agency supervisor will complete. While your self-evaluation will be given considerable weight in arriving at your final grade for fieldwork, greatest weight will be given to your agency supervisor’s overall assessment of your work. Be sure that you and your agency supervisor each have a copy of each other’s evaluation form and have shared this information with each other prior to the final evaluation meeting.

The grade equivalency for these percentages is as follows:

- 94-100 A
- 88-93 AB
- 82-87 B
- 76-81 BC
- 70-75 C (see “Field Education Handbook” regarding this grade)
- 64-69 D

The following are grading standards for the course:

A grade of “A” will include:

- Outstanding; frequently surpasses expectations in all areas (competencies and behaviors) on the “Student Field Evaluation Instrument” and in seminar.
- Superior/excellent ability to utilize supervision, receive feedback from supervisor and/or instructor with minimal defensiveness, respond positively to suggestions and implement them.
- Excellent integration with the placement, ability to relate to staff, supervisor, other clinicians and students, including the ability to participate as a member of a team regarding service for clients with particularly complex service needs.

- Consistent attendance, thoughtful preparation and collaborative participation in the field seminar, with consistent evidence of having read assigned material (e.g., ability to interject major concepts from readings into discussion without prompting).
- With participation, clearly demonstrates ability to provide other perspectives, solutions, options to discussion (e.g., problem solving) AND integrate social work concepts with field and other experiences.
- Excellent, thorough and timely completion of all written and/or oral assignments for the field seminar.
- Enthusiasm and responsiveness to learning opportunities, awareness of learning opportunities and takes initiative to develop learning opportunities and take appropriate risks to further your learning.
- Consistent and excellent responsiveness to cultural and ethical components of your practice as evidenced by supervisor feedback and seminar participation.

A grade of “AB” represents very good to superior/excellent performance in all areas. It may mean that a student has met the “A” criteria in all but one or two of the above areas.

A grade of “B” represents good performance. A student earning a "B" will exhibit good performance in most areas. A student may be meeting only minimum standards in an area but is working actively to make improvements.

A grade of “BC” indicates that the student has met the minimum criteria needed to pass the course.

The “C” grade represents below minimum performance standards/expectations in several areas, or major deficits in two areas and may not be meeting client obligations adequately. As cited in the Field Education Handbook (p. 38): “A grade of “C” in the first, second or third semester of the field course will not allow a student to continue in the professional degree program. A grade of “C” in the final semester will not permit a student to graduate. Both situations may be remediated if the field faculty (upon consultation with the Director of Field Education) agree to permit additional field study and practice, and the student succeeds in raising the grade upon satisfactory completion of additional work. Permission to continue in the entire social work professional degree program (field and other courses) following the receipt of a grade of “C” may be granted by the Field Course Committee upon the student’s written request and committee review of the student’s educational needs, performance problems, and the likelihood of improved performance.”

A grade of “D” or “F” may be assigned in this class and would represent extremely serious performance issues. Conditions under which these grades might be assigned include, but are not limited to, serious ethical misconduct, commission of a crime while engaged in a field activity, or using alcohol or drugs (except as prescribed by a medical provider) while engaged in a field activity.

D= failing, below expectations in many areas and may not continue in field and program
F= failing grade, below expectations in all areas and may not continue

Note about grading: Your goal for this and other courses should be to make the most of your learning experience, and not to simply “get an A.” Your expectations about the grades you receive on assignments should be wholly based on (1) the extent to which you respond to assignment objectives, (2) the quality of your writing (to include grammar and spelling, organization, and clarity), (3) your ability to demonstrate critical thinking, and (4) your level of effort and engagement with the course and assigned material. If there is something about an assignment that is unclear to you, it is your responsibility to bring this to my attention. Grade expectations should NOT be based on what you have received in other courses—this is never a legitimate argument for appealing a grade. If you have an issue with a grade that you receive in this course, please document the reasons for your appeal in writing with specific attention to the four points raised above and I will give your appeal my careful attention.

Spring Semester
Weekly Seminar (40% of Final Grade):
- Professionalism & Participation 12 points
- Assignment A: Check-in Facilitation 8 points
- Assignment B: Critical Reflection Presentation 10 points
- Assignment C: Change Agent Project/Report 10 points

Total Maximum 40 points

End-of-semester evaluations (60% of final grade)

Total Maximum 60 points

Successful completion of the course requires completion of all assignments. Your final course grade will be based on your work at your field placement and your field seminar in the following proportions:

1. WEEKLY FIELD SEMINAR
Seminar topics and required readings are noted in Section IV. There will be time set aside for you to talk about your field experience and issues that you are encountering, both to obtain consultation around challenges you are experiencing and to enhance each other’s learning. We will also be discussing aspects of the readings assigned for that week. Coming prepared to share, discuss and learn, is extremely important! Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner, similar to what would be observed in the student’s field placement.

2. COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

A. Check-In Facilitation (8 points)
   Each student will be assigned a week to lead check-in.
The purpose of this assignment is to:

• Increase facilitation, communication, and planning skills
• Demonstrate listening skills and supportive interaction in the group
• Build community and shared knowledge through creative interaction approaches to learning

The weekly plan will indicate which week you are responsible for providing check-in facilitation. You are expected to prepare for check-in, to model consultation by bringing an issue for discussion in the group, and to lead the discussion with your peers. You are welcome to be in touch with the instructor to design a discussion plan. Your facilitation will cover not less than 30 minutes of class time which means you may need to prepare additional questions (from your own placement, or to be directed in general to classmates).

B. Critical Reflection Presentation (10 points)
Each student will develop a 10-minute presentation focusing on critical reflection on the interaction between insights from reading and experience in the placement. The focus of this presentation is the intersection and critical reflection on agency practice and/or the reading. Unless you ask to reflect on a different reading, the reading to support critical reflection will be a section or chapter of Just Practice. The critical reflection will be anchored in some specific area of generalist social work practice (i.e., engagement, assessment, action/intervention, evaluation).

The purpose of the presentation is to:

• Develop presentation and communication skills
• Increase critical reflection skills and demonstrate integrative learning.
• Reflect on readings on practice and direct experience from the field placement site.
• Demonstrate understanding of both agency practice and strengths or challenges in it, given insights from the readings. OR demonstrate key missing issues in the reading, given concrete experience at the placement.

Students will offer a 10-minute critical reflection. Students will reflect on one key step social work practice – engagement, assessment, action, and evaluation – and identify a concrete critique of agency practice or of the reading itself, given information from reading and experience in the placement. Presentations will (1) identify a key experience at the placement and learnings from that experience; (2) identify a key reading (Just Practice unless otherwise arranged) that informs or relates to the experience and (3) offers a critique (meaning a suggestion for strengthening or improving; a challenge to understanding or practice) of either the reading or the practice given reflection on both. Students will develop PowerPoint and/or other materials describing the presentation (to be submitted on Canvas at least 24 hours in advance of the seminar) and respond to questions/lead a brief discussion after their presentation.

All presentations will be done in weeks 11 and 13. Five students will be assigned to those each of those weeks. The weekly plan indicates the assignment of students to those weeks.
C. Change Agent Project/Report (10 points)

This assignment significantly expands upon an exercise you completed in the fall semester in which you identified a change agent project proposal and possible first action steps. For this semester, you are expected to continue planning, implementing and evaluating your proposal. Review the course calendar for due dates regarding this assignment.

Report (Report of your action, outcomes, recommendations, and learning):

In 6-8 pages, report (simultaneously to agency supervisor) and brief seminar presentation:

- What actions you took within the agency to address the selected issue and why these choices. It is understood that agency-level intervention will require considerable inclusion or, and collaboration with, a variety of agency staff and possibly others. You should detail these choices of personnel and why, and your actions toward your goal. It is required that you will share the results of your project with your agency supervisor as well as the director of the organization, prior to the due date of the report and presentation. This activity should be noted in your report (how you provided the information and the response).
- A brief description of the needs/asset assessment with an attendant statement of a practice issue or problem at the mezzo and/or macro levels such as organizations (including your field placement agency), the community (local, state, national and/or international), and policies. For example, in terms of organizations there may be user friendly issues regarding the environment, mission, policies, procedures, staffing, materials, services/programs, communication, training, and/or evaluation.
- A brief review of relevant literature/research in which you indicate if and how it helped inform your practice (minimum of four sources)
- What outcomes or results have occurred thus far? What do you make of these results? Specify if there are additional outcomes expected in the near future and why.
- How you evaluated or would evaluate the change effort (if time does not allow completion)
- What recommendations do you have for the agency (on this issue) or for other students pursuing this issue?
- What have you learned from working on this project? What you would do differently in the future? Be honest, complete, and objective as it will make your learning and written reporting more clear.
- Use generalist social work concepts and principles as well as appropriately citing all references/resources, e.g., agency supervisor, other staff, faculty, and/or other materials.
- In a separate document, each student will write a brief, one paragraph, description and overview of their change agent project.
- Students will present their change agent project at the April 20, 2018 Spring Poster session (more details to follow). Students will also report on their change agent project in field seminar.

*If students worked in groups, each student must turn in their own report and identify A grading rubric for this assignment for graduate and undergraduate students is available on Learn@UW.

The purpose of the assignment is to:

- Acknowledge and share the NUMEROUS ADVOCACY AND EMPOWERMENT OPPORTUNITIES, how social work field students are change agents, and how they “make a difference” in the welfare of people and society.
- Learn more about human rights, social, economic, cultural and other issues experienced by women, children, persons of color, aging, persons with disabilities, and/or the LGBTQ population or any at-risk population.
- Learn more about human rights, social, economic, cultural and other issues experienced by women, children, persons of color, aging, persons with disabilities, and/or the LGBTQ population or any at-risk population.
- Complete and evaluate, to degree possible, a change effort that is effective, efficient and sustainable.
- Develop or enhance knowledge, skills, and values regarding working in teams (whether with other seminar students or others in the community).

The opportunities in field to move from careful assessment to planned intervention at the mezzo and macro level supports a skill area of critical importance in all social work. Focusing each semester on mezzo and macro considerations helps to attune the student, agency supervisor and field faculty member to student learning at this level. It also assists the student and agency supervisor in supporting positive agency and system approaches to services delivery. It can assist the field faculty member and/or subsequent students to continue on your work. Finally, if results are shared with the seminar, it can assist the field unit as a whole to learn.

NOTE: THE CLASS WIDE PROJECT WILL HAVE AN AMENDED ASSIGNMENT PLAN WHICH WILL BE JOINTLY DEVELOPED THIS SEMESTER. THIS DESCRIPTION IS FOR THOSE WORKING ON THEIR OWN CHANGE AGENT PROJECTS.

The project report is due April 2, 11:59pm.

D. Learning Plan

In the learning plan, students, in collaboration with agency supervisors and field faculty, identify the methods by which course competencies and behaviors will be met and measured. The learning plan needs to be specific, individualized and can be changed over time. Please use the format for the learning plan that is provided on the Canvas site. The learning plan provides the required behaviors for each competency in column one. The student will need to formulate methods for observing and demonstrating achievement of each behavior in column two. The methods should be specific and observable, and should include what your supervisor will do to support and observe your progress toward the behavior. Column three in the learning plan will be completed by the supervisor at the end of each semester to evaluate the student’s mastery of each behavior. In section VI. Supervisor/Student Plan Schedule you should describe your plan. for the weekly one hour of supervision. In section VII. Self-Care Plan please provide a description of how you will engage in self-care practices throughout the semester.

*Establish at least one specific method of achievement to be observed and met at the agency that is aimed at furthering your development of skills in each of the nine competency areas.

Each method to observe and demonstrate achievement should be clearly written and followed by:

a) A description of experiences and methods you will use to reach the identified behavior
b) A description of what your agency supervisor will do in support of the identified behavior
c) A statement that describes how you, your agency supervisory, and I will know that each behavior has been met.

Students will submit an unsigned electronic draft of the learning plan to their field instructor via the Canvas site. The instructor will provide written feedback on the learning plan, potentially with recommendations for revisions. After making the recommended revisions, students will review the final draft with their agency supervisor and both will sign the learning plan. A hard copy of the final learning plan, with signatures, will be submitted to the field instructor in class as stated above. You should also provide your supervisor with a copy of the final plan.

This is an ungraded assignment but a requirement to complete the course.

E. Record of Field Hours
Students are required to use the form provided in class to record weekly how many hours you were present at your field placement. Keep in mind that missed hours must be made up. Time spent traveling to your placement does NOT count towards field hours; however, time spent traveling from a field placement to in-home sessions or community meetings or to sites of other placement activities in the course of your fieldwork does apply. Your attendance at field seminars, orientation sessions, and the end-of-semester field meeting counts towards your field practice hours. Students are encouraged to consult with their agency supervisor at the beginning of the semester to inquire how frequently they want to review the hourly log.

This is an all or nothing assignment. If hours are not completed and arrangements for continuing the placement over the semester break have not been made in advance with the field faculty member and the agency supervisor, or the record is not submitted on time; passing students will be given a grade of “Incomplete” for the semester until the Record of Field Hours is submitted with signatures, and students are unable to begin a new semester with an “Incomplete.”

VII. Course Policies
Your final course grade will be based on your work both in your work at your field placement and your field seminar.

Reading Assignments:
Students are expected to have read all assigned material prior to the class date under which the readings are listed above. Reading and critically evaluating what you have read is necessary so that you can learn, actively participate in class discussions, and successfully complete written assignments.

Confidentiality:
Confidentiality is of utmost importance. In both written assignments and oral discussions and presentations, the rules of confidentiality, as expressed in the NASW Code of Ethics, are to be strictly observed. It is imperative to protect client identity at all times. The same rules apply to dialogue concerning co-workers or professionals and staff at the field placement site and/or agency of employment. Do not share information that would violate the confidentiality of clients or embarrass coworkers.

Written Assignment Policy:
All written assignments are to be either typed or computer-generated and submitted on canvas. Please format these assignments using one-inch margins, single-spacing, and easily readable font. Always include a cover sheet (not counted as one of the required pages) with the title of the paper, your name, the date turned into the field faculty member, course number, and course title. You must use carefully and professional cite your sources (use APA formatting for citations; consult the UW writing center’s guide for APA formatting (http://writing.wisc.edu/Handbook/DocAPA.html). All assignments should be checked thoroughly for correct spelling and grammar.

Late Assignment Policy:
The assignments listed above are due at the time specified. Students who believe they have a legitimate reason for turning in a late assignment should contact the field faculty member prior to the due date. Unapproved late assignments will be marked down three points for each day they are late.

Accommodation Due to a Disability:
If you require accommodations to obtain equal access to this class or to any assignments that I may give, please contact me as soon as possible. I want all students to have an excellent learning experience. Students who are requesting an accommodation due to a disability are expected to inform the field faculty member and provide verification (e.g., from the McBurney Disability Resource Center) at the beginning of the semester or as soon as the need for an accommodation is determined.

Academic Misconduct:
Please note the following definition of academic honesty. “Academic honesty requires that the course work (drafts, reports, examinations, papers) a student presents to an instructor honestly and accurately reflects the student’s own academic efforts. UWS14.03 cites that (among other things) Academic Misconduct Subject to Disciplinary Action includes an “act in which a student seeks to claim credit for the work or efforts of another without authorization or citation”. Examples include, but are not limited to: “cutting and pasting text from the web without quotation marks or proper citation; paraphrasing from the web without crediting the source, using another person’s ideas, words or research and presenting it as one’s own by not properly crediting the originator, etc.

Incomplete Policy:
According to University policy, an Incomplete may only be given when students, who have otherwise made good progress in the course, are prohibited from completing the course as a result of an emergency or crisis event in their lives. A grade of Incomplete or “I” will not be given unless the student meets the university policy criteria, and also contacts the field faculty member prior to the end of the semester to explain the situation and make arrangements for making up the required work.

Attendance & Class Participation Policy:
Class attendance is required of all students. Attendance is defined as arriving on time, staying through the entire class, and leaving only for scheduled breaks. In order for you and your classmates to benefit from this course, attendance and active participation are expected. Attendance will be taken at the beginning and end of each class and I will note your level of participation. If you are unable to attend class, please email me prior to class so that you can receive an excused absence; you may receive one per semester. Three points will be deducted from your grade for each unexcused absence incurred.

Technology in Class:
A minimal level of external distractions is essential to a productive learning environment. Cellphones, iPods, iPads, and any other electronic devices are not to be used in seminar. Students are required to turn cell phones off or on vibrate before entering the classroom. Taking calls during class time interrupts teaching and learning. Please review the school’s policy on professional conduct which can be found in the Student Rights and Responsibilities Handbook pp. 10-12 Professional Conduct in All the Social Work Degree Programs.

Student Behavior Policy:
In order to learn, we must be open to the views of people different from ourselves. Each and every voice in the classroom is important and brings with it a wealth of experiences, values and beliefs. In the time we share together over the semester, please honor the uniqueness of your fellow classmates, and appreciate the opportunity we have to learn from each other. Please respect your fellow students’ opinions and refrain from personal attacks or demeaning comments of any kind. Finally, remember to keep confidential all issues of a personal or professional nature discussed in class. The following is a list of expectations of student’s display of personal integrity and professionalism, and successful adherence to these expectations will be measured and incorporated into both the field seminar grade and the field placement grade.

- Use of cell phones is limited to scheduled breaks, both in the classroom and in the field.
- Laptops are not to be utilized during field seminar.
- Respect is displayed for viewpoints with which you may disagree.
- Respect is displayed for each student and colleague’s right to be heard.
- A capacity to respect and appreciate diversity is displayed.
- Appropriate materials are brought to class and field placement.
- Student has read materials and prepared for class.
- Student displays qualities of an active learner, including taking notes when appropriate.
- Student actively and constructively participates in classroom and field site discussion.
- Careful, respectful language is utilized in all verbal and written communication with classmates, field faculty member, and agency supervisor.
- Student solicits and incorporates feedback when there are questions about performance
- Both in the classroom and the field, student proactively seeks clarification (prior to assignment due dates) if guidance or assistance is needed.

Students are expected to maintain a level of professional behavior in and out of the classroom. Disrespectful and unprofessional behavior in the classroom and field will not be tolerated and will be reflected in the final course grade. Disrespectful behavior will be determined at the discretion of the field faculty member. Some examples of this behavior are, but not limited to, talking while others are speaking, sleeping in class and not being respectful to peers, field faculty or to guest speakers. Field seminar is an extension of the field placement. Your grade in field seminar is based on successful completion of the competencies and behaviors, both in seminar and in the field. It is important to review the section, Professional Conduct in All the Social Work Degree Programs, which can be found in the Student Rights and Responsibilities Handbook. If you have any concerns with this policy, or a concern that needs to be brought to the class’s attention, please speak with this field faculty member. It is the student’s responsibility to contact the field faculty member for any clarification on disrespectful and unprofessional behavior.

Code of Ethics, Professional Conduct & Plagiarism

Incoming BSW and MSW students read and signed electronic forms of the NASW Code of Ethics, the School of Social Work Plagiarism Policy and the School’s Principles of Professional Conduct. In doing so, they agreed that while in the BSW or MSW Program they would honor the Code of Ethics and Principles of Professional Conduct, as well as adhere to the Plagiarism Policy and that should they not do so, sanctions would be imposed. BSW and MSW students are expected to adhere to these policies in the classroom and in the preparation of course assignments.

Plagiarism is a form of academic misconduct, which is not tolerated by the University or the School of Social Work. Plagiarism seeks to claim credit for the work or effort of another without citation or authorization.

The School of Social Work defines plagiarism as:

1. The appropriation of passages or complete works of another person and submitting them as one’s own work – in either written materials or speeches.
2. The presentation of ideas of others as one’s own without giving credit.

There are two major forms of plagiarism:

1. Using direct quotes from others’ written or spoken work and presenting them as one’s own words without using proper quotation marks or offsetting and/or with failure to identify the source of the ideas.
2. Paraphrasing the ideas or research findings of another person(s), with failure to identify the source of the ideas.

Note that slight changes to the author’s original text, even with a citation, is plagiarism. Please see http://writing.wisc.edu/Handbook/QPA_paraphrase.html

Process:

- If an instructor suspects a student has plagiarized, the instructor will contact the student to discuss their concern.
January 19, 2018

- If the instructor determines that the student has plagiarized, the instructor will decide on a sanction in accordance with the misconduct rules in UWS 14.

Sanction:
- Based on the seriousness of the sanction, the instructor may inform the Dean of Student’s Office. The only sanctions that can be imposed without notifying the Dean of Students Office are: 1) oral reprimand; 2) written reprimand presented only to the student; and 3) an assignment to repeat the work on its merits.
- More serious sanctions may include a zero on the assignment or exam, a lower grade in the course or failure in the course. The School of Social Work will inform the Dean of Student’s Office when imposing any of these sanctions. This action is taken so the Dean of Student’s Office can decide whether to seek additional sanctions.
- Repeated acts of academic misconduct may result in more serious actions such as removal from the course in progress, disciplinary probation or suspension, or expulsion (http://www.students.wisc.edu/doso/acadintegrity.html).
- Note: Students can appeal any sanctions.

sexual orientation, and tribal sovereign status. Advanced practice social workers recognize that, as a consequence of difference, a person’s life experiences may include oppression, poverty, marginalization, and alienation, as well as privilege, power, and acclaim, and apply this recognition in their practice. They also demonstrate in practice their understanding of the forms and mechanisms of oppression and discrimination, and a recognition of the extent to which a culture’s structures and values, including social, economic, political, and cultural exclusions, may oppress, marginalize, alienate, or create privilege and power.

2.1.3: Advance Human Rights and Social, Economic, and Environmental Justice

Advanced Generalist social workers demonstrate in their focus area an understanding that every person regardless of position in society has fundamental human rights such as freedom, safety, privacy, an adequate standard of living, health care, and education. Advanced generalist social workers incorporate in practice an understanding of the global interconnections of oppression and human rights violations, and knowledgeable about theories of human need and social justice and strategies to promote social and economic justice and human rights. Advanced generalist social workers employ strategies designed to eliminate oppressive structural barriers to ensure that social goods, rights, and responsibilities are distributed equitably and that civil, political, environmental, economic, social, and cultural human rights are protected.

Advanced Generalist social workers demonstrate an understanding of how their personal experiences and affective reactions may affect their assessment and decision-making.

2.1.8 Intervene with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities

Advanced Generalist social workers recognize and understand intervention is an ongoing component of the dynamic and interactive process of social work practice with, and on behalf of, diverse individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. They independently identify, analyze and implement evidence-informed interventions to achieve the goals of clients and constituencies in a focus area. Advanced Generalist social workers incorporate their knowledge of theories of human behavior and the social environment when selecting and implementing interventions in a focus area. They also engage in interdisciplinary, inter-professional, and inter organizational collaboration as appropriate, in evaluating and implementing interventions.

Instructions for Evaluating Students on the Nine Competencies: Evaluation Component (Column 3)

The nine competencies specified in this evaluation form are those established by our national accrediting organization (the Council on Social Work Education). The student’s learning plan has identified the learning opportunities (e.g., methods, activities, and assignments) available for the student to achieve these competencies. Under each competency statement are several indicators, i.e., behaviors, which we ask you to rate, according to the following criteria, based upon their performance of the measurable methods of achievement (the observable learning opportunities). Students demonstrate mastery of a set of behaviors tied to practice competencies that are related to the mission and goals of social work in the field placement. Students gain experience and focus on skill development in their field placements related to the behaviors associated with the competencies.

Comments may be made under any competency statement, if desired. Please be sure to indicate those areas in which you think the student is particularly strong and those areas in which the student needs improvement. For the latter, please note specific strategies for making improvement or indicate that these will need to be identified during the three-way (agency supervisor, student and field faculty) evaluation meeting.

This evaluation is intended to give the student feedback about their performance. Students are expected to indicate if there are areas they do not understand and/or with which they do not agree. For the fall semester evaluation, the rating is based on what the student has accomplished to-date and how well they have accomplished it in terms of expectations, at that time, for achievement of the practice behavior. The spring end-of-semester rating indicates the “outcome” in terms of achieving the practice behavior.

For the advanced generalist level student, the desired outcome is that of an autonomous social work practitioner. The Field Faculty will determine the student’s grade based on their overall evaluation of the student’s performance in the field placement in conjunction with performance in the integrative seminar.

*Note: The N/A rating is only applicable for the fall semester final.
