I. Course Description

400 Field Practice and Integrative Seminar I

An approved generalist field seminar and social work community agency placement. Seminar and placement require a minimum of 16 hours/week. The first course (SW400) of the two semester field sequence. The second course (SW401) of the two semester field sequence. Attributes and Designations: For undergraduates, this course counts as “Workplace Experience” and counts as Liberal Arts and Sciences credit in L&S. This course also counts toward the 50% graduate coursework requirement for graduate students.

Requisites: Senior Standing and declared Bachelor of Social Work program or declared in Master of Social Work program.

How Credit Hour is Met: The credit standard for this course is met by an expectation of a total of 256 hours of student engagement with the courses learning activities (45 hours per credit), which include regularly scheduled instructor:student meeting times (Wednesdays for 2.5 hours over 13 weeks), reading, writing, field placement and other student work as described in the syllabus. Students complete an average of 16 hours of field work in the community as part of the course requirement.800 Field Practice and Integrative Seminar III

An approved advanced generalist seminar and placement linked to areas of focus. Seminar and placement require a minimum of 20 hours/week. The first course (SW800) of the two semester advanced field sequence. The second course (SW801) of the two semester field sequence.

Attributes and Designations: This course counts toward the 50% graduate coursework requirement.

Requisites: Declared in Master of Social Work Program

How Credit Hour is Met: The credit standard for this course is met by an expectation of a total of 320 hours of student engagement with the courses learning activities (45 hours per credit), which include regularly scheduled instructor:student meeting times (Wednesdays for 2.5 hours over 13 weeks), reading, writing, field placement and other student work as described in the syllabus. Students complete an average of 20 hours of field work in the community as part of the course requirement.

II. Course Overview

This is a unit that primarily focuses on social work field placements with community agencies including both direct and indirect services to clients. Most students are involved in direct practice which includes services to both voluntary and involuntary clients. Services include group and individual work, case management, client advocacy and case planning. Indirect services may include program planning, administration and evaluation. Field placements are varied and include social work placements in community centers, family service organizations, government agencies, advocacy organizations, health clinics, and early intervention and prevention programs.

This field unit, which meets for two semesters, is an approved generalist practice unit for undergraduate (BSW) and first-year master level students and advanced generalist specialization year students. BSW and first year MSW students spend 16 hours per week in field placement, including the integrative seminar, for a total of 256 hours per semester. Advanced generalist year students spend 20 hours per week, including the integrative seminar, for a total of 320 hours per semester. For field placement purposes, the semester is considered 14 weeks. The 14 weeks includes exam week; if students prefer not to be in placement this week, or to reduce placement hours this week, they may choose to work with their agency supervisor to spend more hours in earlier weeks. Please note the number of seminars is 13 at 2.5 hours for each seminar for a total of 32.5 hours.

Students are not permitted to end their field placement early, which is the reason a limit is set as to how many hours students may spend in field each week. The key to ensuring students have the most beneficial field experience is the combination of attending the field seminar while being placed in the field, which necessitates that students not finish their placement early. In addition, a commitment is made between the student, the agency supervisor, and the field faculty member to continue the student's educational experience until May 2019. Field settings require a commitment of two consecutive semesters of placement, due to the nature of client needs and services provided, as well as the time needed for student's professional development. All settings provide opportunity to learn generalist social work roles.

III. Learning Outcomes: Competency Description and Dimensions (Field and Seminar)

Field education is comprised of two interrelated components: 1) The field placement, and 2) the Integrative Seminar. Together, these elements are the means by which students become competent practitioners at the generalist (400-401) or advanced generalist (800-801) level.

The Integrative Seminar provides students with regular opportunities for integration of course content and field experiences. The integrative seminar connects the theoretical and conceptual content of the classroom with generalist (400-401) or advanced generalist (800-801) practice in field settings. In seminar, as we consult with one another and reflect on practice dilemmas, we examine practice problems in the context of social work values and how we professionally think and feel (cognitive and affective processes) incorporating each of the identified social work competencies listed in Appendix A of the syllabus. In seminar, a generalist perspective is used to analyze and reflect on entry (400-401) and advanced social work (800-801) practice situations students encounter in their placement. The generalist practitioner combines multidisciplinary knowledge bases, problem analysis skills, and multiple practice methods to apply creative solutions to the problems and situational needs of people in their various life roles, or social and economic realities. Central to the generalist perspective are concepts of multi-level person-environment assessment and intervention, multiple targets, and multiple methods. The field practice and integrative seminar blends agency-based practice with practice theory, human behavior, social work policy/services, and social work research. The advanced generalist perspective builds on generalist practice adapting and extending the knowledge, values and skills to address more complex direct practice situations and to be reflexive social work leaders capable of addressing unique, ambiguous, unstable and complex situations.

Social Work Education is framed by a competency-based approach to curriculum design. At the conclusion of their education, social work students are expected to be competent in 9 core areas. Competency is achieved through mastery of course content as measured through course activities, readings and assignments and behaviors learned in field experiences, and which are derived from social work knowledge, values, skills and cognitive and affective processes. The competencies addressed in this course can be found in Appendix A.

In placement, students demonstrate mastery of a set of behaviors tied to entry and/or advanced practice social work competencies that are related to the mission and goals of social work. The behaviors associated with the competencies addressed in this field course may be found in “Student Learning Plan” and the “Evaluation Instrument” found in Appendix B.

IV. COURSE CONTENT

Time: 8:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. The content for each week includes: assignments due, the seminar agenda, and other assignments (e.g., practice question, readings) for that week.

Week 1: September 7 - Welcome and Introduction to the Seminar

- Seminar Overview - key themes, assignments and instructions
- Integrating placement experiences and with seminar materials, speaker presentations, and class discussion
- Student Learning Plan and Evaluation Instruments (overview)
- Student hour-log and field performance evaluations: ongoing, mid and end-of-semester
- Class Attendance and Participation
- Schedule and Due dates: Assignments and Class Treats
- Background checks (give to agency supervisor first day) and Continuing Duty To Inform
- Overview and preparation for next week’s speaker
- Practice Questions

Discussion of the professional orientation of social work, developing a supportive class environment, and personal mission statement assignment.

Week 2: September 14

- Speaker: Martha Stacker, Administrator, Children, Youth and Families Division, Dane County Department of Human Services

Topic: “Welcome to the Field of Social Work: Our Mission, Our Vision, and Advice Moving Forward”

Practice Question: How do you see yourself using supervision this year? How can you assess the quality of supervision you are receiving? What can you do to strengthen your use of supervision? How does supervision contribute to ethical social work practice?

- Further review Personal Mission Statement Assignment
- Check in on Field Placements and Learning Plan development
- Preparation for Speaker on Restorative Justice Circles
- Readings in Pranis (pages 1-46) and Goldstein (pages 1-35)

Week 3: September 21

Speaker: Ron Johnson, Coordinator, Dane County Restorative Court

“Restorative Justice and the Magic of Circle Processes”

- Practice Question: What are the precautions in place in your field placement for your safety, the safety of your colleagues, and the safety of your clients? What are the strengths of these systems? Areas for improvement? Read NASW Code of Ethics
- Personal Mission Statement Due Next Week
- Readings in Pranis (pages 47-76) and Goldstein (pages 36-114)
- Identify and discuss ethical decision making case scenarios with your social work field supervisor

<https://www.socialworkers.org/About/Ethics/Code-of-Ethics/Code-of-Ethics-English> Week 4: September 28

Speaker Panel: Current Social Work Students and Graduates of the Program

“Getting the most out of your field placement experience and your social work career”

- Personal Mission Statement Due
- Learning Plan Draft Due Next Week
- Check-in on Field Placement experience (Bring Learning Plan Draft)
- Present and discuss agency assessment and analysis framework
- Discuss Change Agent Assignment
- Discuss NASW Code of Ethics and case scenarios related to mandated reporting
- Readings in Goldstein (115-148); Kirst-Ashman (393-348)

Practice Question of the Week: Discuss ethical issues and values conflicts in case examples. How are these social justice issues? How were they resolved if at all? How are social work values, ethics, and confidentiality practiced/not practiced in your agency? What is an ethical dilemma? How can these be resolved?

Kirst-Ashman, K.K. & Hull, G. (2012). Values, ethics, and the resolution of ethical dilemmas. In Understanding generalist practice (6th ed.) (pp. 393-438). Belmont, CA.: Brooks/Cole.

Week 5: October 5

Guests: Dane County Child Protective Services Intake Workers: Sue DeBuhr and Akiko Pasewald “What is the threshold for mandated reporting?”

- Learning Plan Draft Due for discussion purposes
- Discuss Mandated Reporting
- Check-in on Field Placement experience
- Discuss Personal Mission Statements
- Review Ethical Decision-making case scenarios from field placement experience and other examples
- Readings in Goldstein (pages 149-189) Leddin (4-37)

Leddin, Patrick and Moon, Shaw (2018) Building A Winning Culture In Government – A Blueprint For Delivering Success in the Public Sector. (First Edition) Franklin Covey Co.

Practice Question of the Week: How does mandated reporting affect your colleagues and the clients at your field placement agency? Are there any additional policies or procedures in place (i.e. documentation, chain of command) for mandatory reporting?

Week 6: October 12

- Check in on Field Placement experience
- Review progress on agency assessment and analysis. Discuss how to assess organizational culture.
- Change Agent Topic Due Next Week

Readings in Goldstein (pages 192-234); Leddin (97-115)

- Practice Question of the Week: How does politics impact social work practice? What types of power are available to social workers? How can it be used effectively? What ethical considerations do social workers have to take into account when they are engaging in political activity?

Week 7: October 19

Conference Call: Jerry Hartz, Head of Government Affairs and Communications, The National Democratic Institute

(Former Director, House Floor Operations, Leader Nancy Pelosi (D-CA), U.S. House of Representatives)

“Politics and Power: Lessons Learned Over Three Decades as a Political Advocate”

- Learning Plan Due
- Change Agent Topic Due
- BSW student essay on Janesville due next week
- Prepare for next week’s speaker.
- Check-in on Field Placement experience
- Readings in Goldstein (pages 238-297); Leddin (pages 190-209;211-235)

Practice Questions of the Week: How do you distinguish between a high performance and low performance organization? How does an organization’s culture impact human services delivery at the agency and system level? What steps can be taken to improve a challenging situation?

Week 8: October 26

“From Janesville to FoxConn: the Political and Economic Implications of Publically- Funded Corporate Investment and Welfare.”

Visit to WI State Legislature for an interactive Panel Discussion

- Check-in on Field Placement experience
- Discuss progress on agency assessment and analysis (due next week)
- BSW student essay on Janesville due
- Review and discussion of learning plans submitted last week
- Review of class attendance and participation to date
- Submission of hour logs

Week 9: November 2

- Agency assessment and analysis due
- Round table discussion on agency assessment and analysis reports
- Review of building blocks for Change Agent Project: literature review; policy option paper; grant writing
- Check-in on Field Placement experience

- Practice Questions of the Week: In what scenarios is self-disclosure appropriate with clients? Benefits? Challenges? What are your experiences with self-disclosure? What is your agency’s perspective on self-disclosure? Do these experiences or perspectives vary depending on different populations or individuals within those populations?

Week 10: November 9

Topic: Race and Diversity (Activity to determined by students)

- Presentation of agency assessment and analysis reports

- Check-in on Field Placement experience
- Readings (Ijeoma Oluo – pages 70-82;99-120;142-152;162-178;189-200;212-238)

Oluo, Ijeoma (2018) So you want to talk about race .(First Edition) Seal Press

Practice Questions of the Week : What have been your experiences to date with race and diversity both personally and professionally? How have you learned from them? How can you be intentional about continuing to explore race and diversity issues?

What is your understanding of the dimensions of diversity, that is, the intersectionality of multiple factors? For example, dimensions related to age, class, color, culture, disability and ability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, immigration status, marital status, political ideology, race, religion, spirituality, sex, sexual orientation, and tribal sovereign status.

Week 11: November 16

- Change Agent proposals due
- Change Agent Presentations
- Check-in on Field Placement experience

Week 12: November 23 - NO CLASS THIS WEEK

Week 13: November 30

- Learning contracts and hour logs due next week
- Prepare for end of year learning plan evaluations.
- Change Agent Presentations
- Check-in on Field Placement experience

Week 13: December 7– Potluck!!!!

- Check in on Field Placement experience
- Learning contracts and hour logs due
- Discussion and evaluation of first semester
- Course Evaluations

The schedule represents the agenda of activities the field faculty intends to follow during the term. However, the faculty reserves the right to modify or change this schedule at any time based on the perceptions of the objectives to be realized, topics of current interest, and specific needs of students in the light of these factors.

V. Text and Reading Materials

The required texts for this semester is:

1) Pranis, Kay (2005) The Little Book of Circle Processes – A New/Old Approach to Peacemaking. (First Edition) Good Books

2) Goldstein, Amy (2017) Janesville – An American Story. (First Edition) Simon and Schuster. All texts are on reserve in the Social Work Library.

Readings will be assigned, in advance, for specific class topics. For those identified as required readings, students are expected to come prepared for class having thoughtfully read the assigned articles or other materials. Students are also expected to complete, critically think about, and integrate with practice experiences readings and exercise materials handed out in seminar and relevant practice materials available in their agency placement. Students are encouraged to consider questions that the weekly readings might stimulate in relation to one's field experience or other course content. Students are expected to complete and understand all currently assigned readings in social work and related courses and to review past readings to enhance understanding and integration of theory, methods and practice. Additional relevant readings may be provided by the field faculty member throughout the semester. Students are also expected to read relevant practice material available in their agency placement.

It is anticipated that students will be exposed to new substantive areas in the field that they will need to learn more about in order to gain sufficient understanding to address the needs in that area. In many cases, this will be necessary in order to make progress toward accomplishing the related competencies or behaviors in the learning plan. Students are expected to select and read a minimum of three practice articles over the course of the semester relevant to substantive areas of interest in the field setting (e.g., the populations served, social, psychological, spiritual or health issues, evidence informed interventions to address needs, or related policies). Students should indicate on their learning plan topics that will be pursued over the semester and note progress in their final semester evaluation.

VI. Evaluation: Assignments, Grading and Methods

Assignments and Expectations: In order to achieve the competencies, timely completion of assignments is expected. Students needing assistance with written assignments are expected to use available resources (e.g., the Writing Lab, 6171 Helen C. White Hall). Carefully review the syllabus, assignments, expectations and evaluation criteria for this semester. Immediately ask the field faculty member and/or agency supervisor, as applicable, about any information, assignments, expectations, or instructions you do not understand. In compliance with University Graduate School rules that graduate students be assessed separately from undergraduate students, there are criteria (outlined in the grading rubrics) specific to graduate students in the expectations and assignments for this course.

Learning Plan

Learning plan drafts are due October 5 and final versions are due on October 19. Final learning plans must be approved by field supervisors and field faculty and signed by students, agency supervisors and field faculty. The field faculty provides students with a framework for social work practice and assistance in self-assessment in order to formulate a learning plan. In the learning plan, students, in collaboration with agency supervisors and field faculty, must identify the methods by which the behaviors outlined in the syllabus will be observed. Learning goals must be connected to the CSWE approved nine competencies.

Some behaviors may have multiple strategies and some may not be addressed in the field agency placement but would then need to be addressed in another part of the agency or another placement. The learning plan, sometimes referred to as a “learning contract,” is a critical document that can be revised overtime when indicated. It needs to be specific, observable, individualized and can be changed over time. Students needing assistance in completing it should contact the field faculty member. This learning plan is meant to be an organizational aid to help initiate, plan and update/revise your field experience. It is not intended to be a substitute for regular supervisory contact and educational consultation with faculty and professional staff. The learning plan will be signed and dated by the student and the agency supervisor or school social worker.

Integrative Seminar

There is a required weekly seminar with the field faculty member. The seminar is used for integrating theory and practice. The format for the seminar includes consultation about practice problems and issues, faculty instruction and student presentations, guest speakers and learning activities. Students are responsible for reading all assigned material so that they are fully prepared to participate in discussion and class activities.

Each student is expected to share field and other related experiences in order to enhance the integration and application of social work concepts with practice through active consultation, problem solving and support. Given the diversity of students and their life experiences and the various agency placement settings, populations-at-risk, and the human rights issues, active participation is critical to learning about various perspectives and social work in public and private child welfare agencies. There will be time set aside for you to talk about your field experience and issues that you are encountering, both to seek consultation around challenges you are experiencing and to enhance each other’s learning. Coming prepared to share, discuss and learn, is extremely important! Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner, similar to what would be observed in the student’s field placement.

Participation and professionalism in all field unit seminars is required. Quality participation includes the ability to look at oneself and critically analyze strengths and areas for growth. Quality participation also includes providing support and feedback to peers as appropriate, as well as seeking feedback and consultation from peers. Those whose participation clearly demonstrates having completed readings and other assignments, the ability to integrate social work concepts with field and other experiences, AND the ability to fully engage in problem solving and other exercises (presenting social work issues or other perspectives for discussion as well as responding to other students who present issues) will earn high marks in this area. Participation can be challenging for some students.

Professionalism includes being prepared and present in every class. It includes arriving on time. You are expected to demonstrate an ability to listen to and ask questions of your peers in a respectful, thoughtful manner consistent with the values of social work. It also involves the ability to discuss challenges in one's field placement in a respectful manner. This includes not only the manner in which we discuss clients, but also the manner in which you might discuss challenges with your agency supervisor or other staff. Discussing challenges in field placement in a way that is akin to "gossiping" will not be tolerated. Students should demonstrate curiosity, an ability to examine assumptions, values and practice challenges, and the ability to contribute to a shared space in which it is safe to do so. Please see the field faculty member early in the semester if you need any assistance in this or any other areas.

Practice Question of the Week

This is one of several efforts to integrate theory and practice and to challenge students to think critically, analyze, question, and problem solve issues in social work practice. Each student is expected to critically think about the agency and practice (e.g., using observations, interviews, readings) in order to answer the 'practice question of the week' and come prepared for discussion in seminar. Students are, of course, encouraged to propose questions of their own for discussion, including those which extend beyond the local agency level to community, national, global policies and programs and implications for practice. Students are also encouraged to bring the practice questions to supervision with their agency supervisors for further processing and reflection.

Supervision, Consultation, and Evaluation

Students have three sources of supervisory guidance, consultation and evaluation: the agency supervisor, the field faculty member, and the seminar group. The required weekly field seminar is used for integrating theory and practice. The format for the seminar includes consultation about practice problems and issues, faculty instruction and student presentations, guest speakers and learning activities. Each student will complete a field learning plan reflective both of the competencies and their particular learning needs. Students are responsible for defining and achieving the competencies and behaviors suggesting, organizing, and documenting activities; and fully participating in the field instruction process. Students are required to receive weekly supervision from their agency supervisor. Consultation is available each week during the seminar meetings and students can seek additional consultation from their agency supervisor or field faculty member, as needed.

Student Lead Field Seminar Activity

In order to practice your group facilitation skills, as well as to enhance all of our learning in field, each student may have the opportunity to plan and lead a group activity or facilitate a speaker presentation as a portion of seminar over the course of the academic year. You are encouraged to be creative. You might choose to lead a team building exercise, icebreaker or activity focused on building team cohesion lasting 5-10 minutes. It is entirely up to you. This is your group! This is an ungraded assignment, although preparation and facilitation skills will be taken into considering when assessing professionalism and preparation for the seminar portion of your grade.

Individual Meetings and Out-of-Class Contact

I am available to meet before and after class but would prefer advance notice, if possible. We can also arrange a time to meet or talk by phone on non-class days. I am most accessible by email. I will respond to emails within 24 hours during the business week (Monday thru Friday).

Meetings Together with your Agency Supervisor

Open and frequent communication among all parties over the course of the semester will help keep all of us on track. At the end of the semester, you and I will meet with your agency supervisor at the agency for evaluation of your work at the field placement. There are evaluation forms for this end-of-semester meeting that your supervisor and you will each fill out, and then share with each other, before our end-of-semester meeting.

Use of supervision includes being prepared for discussions or meetings with your supervisor as well as other professionals in the agency. Preparation would include critically thinking about and being ready to discuss and process the following:

- issues, situations, challenges, opportunities, and/or successes experienced in practice;
- what you have done or would do (e.g., options, interventions) in addressing issues or concerns and any specific questions you have regarding the matter;
- the learning plan (e.g., reviewing progress on a couple methods of achievement and its respective competency each time);
- seminar discussions and assignments, including the practice questions of the week; and
- other topics for discussion identified by the field faculty member, agency supervisor, or student

You will also be meeting with your supervisor for a mid-term evaluation and with your supervisor and field faculty for the end-of-the semester evaluation. See the section on evaluation and grading for more information. For more information on supervision, consultation and evaluation and educational roles, including those of students, please see below and the Field Education Handbook, section I.

The Agency Supervisor has the following responsibilities:

1. Participate in student selection/placement process.
2. Work with student and faculty in development of learning plans and supervisory arrangements.
3. Orient student to agency, work unit, and practice area.
4. Provide ongoing practice supervision.
5. Possible teamwork with student.

6. Provide good professional role model.
7. Consult with student on professional growth and development.
8. Provide student with ongoing constructive criticism and final evaluation.

The Field Faculty has the following responsibilities:

1. Responsible for student selection and community placement.
2. Develop and approve learning plan and supervisory arrangements with student and practicum supervisor.
3. Teach field unit seminar to provide relevant theoretical, policy, and problem content.
4. Share in ongoing practice supervision/consultation and help student integrate seminar content with placement experience.
5. Provide a good professional role model.
6. Maintain regular contact (at least monthly) with practicum supervisor to monitor student performance, ensure learning opportunities, deal with performance problems, etc.
7. Consult with student on professional growth and development
8. Help student integrate constructive criticism and responsible for evaluation and grading.

For more detail, see “Summary of Educational Roles in Working with Field Students” in the Field Education Handbook.

Evaluation and Grading

Grading. Evaluation is on-going between the student, agency supervisor(s) and the field faculty member. The field faculty member receives feedback on your performance from you and your agency supervisor(s) and determines the grade earned. Your education is a shared responsibility, so always feel free to seek and give feedback, ask questions, make appointments, and do what you need to do to keep yourself actively learning, excited, and happy in your field setting.

Forty percent (40%) of the final grade will be based on the thoughtfulness and preparedness of your participation in seminar and the quality of your written assignments, which are all a part of professional behavior. Written assignments must be turned in by the specified due dates unless specific arrangements have been made with me in advance. Students are expected to attend all seminars, with reasonable accommodations being made as specified in University policy or for other situations such as illness, emergencies and, especially for those commuting from outside of Madison when travel is discouraged due to inclement weather. Students are responsible for informing me of absences from class in advance if possible, and for following up with me as soon as possible regarding that day's seminar content. Frequent absences from field unit meetings and/or failure to follow up may result in a grade reduction for this course. Completion of required readings and active participation in seminars, including arriving on time and demonstrating an ability to listen to and ask questions of your peers, will also figure importantly into this portion of your overall grade.

More specifically:

Regarding professionalism, field faculty will be looking for evidence of thoughtful reading of assigned materials, curiosity, ability to examine assumptions, values and practice challenges, and the ability to contribute to a shared space in which it is safe to do so.

For the written assignments this semester, field faculty will be looking for thoroughness in all of the elements noted earlier in this syllabus.

If you have not completed the required hours for field practicum by the end of the semester, you will receive a grade of Incomplete for the semester (assuming that you are otherwise passing the course and have obtained advance approval from field faculty of your plan to complete the hours).

Sixty percent (60%) of the grade is based on actual fieldwork taking into account the degree to which the competencies are met through observable behaviors, including the student's performance in the classroom and in the field. The student's demonstration of professionalism, both in seminar and in the field, and as outlined in this syllabus, will be included in the student's final grade. Students are expected to achieve the competencies of the field course through the observable behaviors; complete the required hours per semester, cooperate fully with agency staff and the field faculty member; seek clarification of feedback when needed; apply feedback across practice; and strive for their best performance in all field assignments. This is especially important because field practice differs from most other university courses in that the placement entails not only educational outcomes for the student, but also professional responsibilities to clients, agencies, and the community. As such, when students engage clients and assume service obligations, there are ongoing professional and ethical matters to be considered as well as the learning needs of the student. Also, considerable time and effort is spent on the part of the agency supervisors and faculty to plan and deliver a good learning opportunity. Evaluation and grading, therefore, reflect the overall quality of the performance, not merely completion of the activities. The field evaluation instrument with the competencies and respective behaviors; the student's performance in seminar, the student's learning plan; and the progress summary will serve as guides in the evaluation process.

The following components will be assessed based on the student's performance:

End of semester evaluation instrument:

- Utilization of supervision (listens to and accepts critical feedback; ability for self-reflection and open discussion of challenges; appropriately seeks consultation with asking questions, sharing concerns and ideas; preparedness for supervision meetings)
- Participation in field placement activities (taking initiative to seek learning opportunities; shows motivation; appropriate interactions with other staff; ability to work within an interdisciplinary team)
- Cultural and ethical components of field practice (displays cultural competence with staff and clients; awareness of biases and ability to discuss these in supervision; consideration of culture and the social environment in case conceptualization; ability to identify ethical dilemmas and discuss these in supervision; adheres to NASW Code of Ethics)
- Clinical documentation (ability to work with the technology; content of notes; clinical language; thoroughness, timeliness)
- Professionalism (reliability; thoroughness; organization; adhering to boundaries; time management; ability to work responsibly and independently; completes tasks as assigned; participation and preparedness; attire; uses professional judgment)
- Attendance and timeliness (in seminar and in field)

Practice Skills:

- Engagement skills (relates well to clients and staff, ability to build rapport; ability to convey warmth, empathy and genuineness; ability to demonstrate active listening)
- Assessment and skills (ability to gather relevant information; ability to articulate a comprehensive formulation; conceptualization skills)
- Planning and goal setting (ability to develop a clear plan with specific goals and observable, measurable objectives)
- Intervention (ability to implement interventions in line with goals and objectives; ability to understand and incorporate best practice interventions)
- Evaluation (ability to evaluate interventions and progress toward goals; ability for self-reflection on performance)

Final responsibility for grading the student's performance in the placement rests with the field faculty member. However, considerable weight in grading will be given to the student's agency supervisor's assessment of the progress the student has made in fulfilling the stated competencies and the quality of the student's work in the field placement. Field faculty will periodically review your progress both with you and with the agency supervisor and joint meetings will be held with you if indicated or desired by you or your agency supervisor. A mid-semester meeting can be scheduled if the student, agency supervisor, or field faculty member request a meeting.

In December, the student, agency supervisor and field faculty member will meet together to discuss your progress in accomplishing your learning objectives for the semester and to evaluate the overall quality of your field performance. This discussion will be informed in part by a self-evaluation form you will be asked to complete prior to our meeting, and a parallel version of the form that your agency supervisor will complete. While your self-evaluation will be given considerable weight in arriving at your final grade for fieldwork, greatest weight will be given to your agency supervisor's overall assessment of your work. Be sure that you and your agency supervisor each have a copy of each other's evaluation form and have shared this information with each other prior to the final evaluation meeting.

The grade equivalency for these percentages is as follows:

94-100	A
88-93	AB
82-87	B
76-81	BC
70-75	C (see "Field Education Handbook" regarding this grade)
64-69	D

The following are grading standards for the course:

A grade of "A" will include:

*Outstanding; frequently surpasses expectations in all areas (competencies and practice behaviors) on the "Student Field Evaluation Instrument" and in seminar.

*Superior/excellent ability to utilize supervision, receive feedback from supervisor and/or instructor with minimal defensiveness, respond positively to suggestions and implement them.

*Excellent integration with the placement, ability to relate to staff, supervisor, other clinicians and students, including the ability to participate as a member of a team regarding service for clients with particularly complex service needs.

*Consistent attendance, thoughtful preparation and collaborative participation in the field seminar, with consistent evidence of having read assigned material (e.g., ability to interject major concepts from readings into discussion without prompting).

*With participation, clearly demonstrates ability to provide other perspectives, solutions, options to discussion (e.g., problem solving) AND integrate social work concepts with field and other experiences.

*Excellent, thorough and timely completion of all written and/or oral assignments for the field seminar.

*Enthusiasm and responsiveness to learning opportunities, awareness of learning opportunities and takes initiative to develop learning opportunities and take appropriate risks to further your learning.

*Consistent and excellent responsiveness to cultural and ethical components of your practice as evidenced by supervisor feedback and seminar participation.

A grade of “AB” represents very good to superior/excellent performance in all areas. It may mean that a student has met the “A” criteria in all but one or two of the above areas.

A grade of “B” represents good performance. A student earning a "B" will exhibit good performance in most areas. A student may be meeting only minimum standards in an area but is working actively to make improvements.

A grade of “BC” indicates that the student has met the minimum criteria needed to pass the course.

The “C” grade represents below minimum performance standards/expectations in several areas, or major deficits in two areas and may not be meeting client obligations adequately. As cited in the Field Education Handbook (p. 38): “A grade of “C” in the first, second or third semester of the field course will not allow a student to continue in the professional degree program. A grade of “C” in the final semester will not permit a student to graduate. Both situations may be remediated if the field faculty (upon consultation with the Director of Field Education) agree to permit additional field study and practice, and the student succeeds in raising the grade upon satisfactory completion of additional work. Permission to continue in the entire social work professional degree program (field and other courses) following the receipt of a grade of “C” may be granted by the Field Course Committee upon the student’s written request and committee review of the student’s educational needs, performance problems, and the likelihood of improved performance.”

A grade of “D” or “F” may be assigned in this class and would represent extremely serious performance issues. Conditions under which these grades might be assigned include, but are not limited to, serious ethical misconduct, commission of a crime while engaged in a field activity, or using alcohol or drugs (except as prescribed by a medical provider) while engaged in a field activity.

D= failing, below expectations in many areas and may not continue in field and program

F= failing grade, below expectations in all areas and may not continue

Note about grading: Your goal for this and other courses should be to make the most of your learning experience, and not to simply “get an A.” Your expectations about the grades you receive on assignments should be wholly based on (1) the extent to which you respond to assignment objectives, (2) the quality of your writing (to include grammar and spelling, organization, and clarity), (3) your ability to demonstrate critical thinking, and (4) your level of effort and engagement with the course and assigned material. If there is something about an assignment that is unclear to you, it is your responsibility to bring this to my attention. Grade expectations should NOT be based on what you have received in other courses—this is never a legitimate argument for appealing a grade. If you have an issue with a grade that you receive in this course, please document the reasons for your appeal in writing with specific attention to the four points raised above and I will give your appeal my careful attention.

Fall Semester

Weekly Seminar (40% of Final Grade):

Personal Mission Statement	10 points
Professionalism & Participation	10 points
Agency Analysis Report	10 points
Change Agent Outline/Proposal	10 points
Total Maximum Points: 40
points

End-of-semester evaluations (60% of final grade)

Total Maximum Points: 60 points

Successful completion of the course requires completion of all assignments. Your final course grade will be based on your work at your field placement and your field seminar in the following proportions:

1. WEEKLY FIELD SEMINAR

Seminar topics and required readings are noted in Section IV. There will be time set aside for you to talk about your field experience and issues that you are encountering, both to obtain consultation around challenges you are experiencing and to enhance each other's learning. We will also be discussing aspects of the readings assigned for that week. Coming prepared to share, discuss and learn, is extremely important! Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner, similar to what would be observed in the student's field placement.

2. WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS

A. Personal Mission Statement

You will develop a personal mission statement which will clarify your professional and personal value orientation with accompanying goal statements. This exercise will help you identify values of importance to yourself and your current prospective roles. A mission statement will then be completed that articulates your personal and professional identity. It is hoped the personal mission statement will inspire and provide a clear path for what you hope to accomplish in the short and long term.

B. Agency Analysis Report and Class Discussion

The purpose of this assignment is to:

- familiarize students with their social organization/agency including information on diversity of populations served, issues, oppression, and so forth that the student can refer to, share and expand upon throughout the school year
- provide an early opportunity to use data collection and assessment skills focusing on a social agency
- provide background information that students can use for other classes and field seminar agenda items such as weekly practice questions (e.g., regarding oppression and empowerment, cultural competence, “user friendliness) and for assignments (i.e., the self-assessment and change agent project)
- provide the field seminar a beginning basis for understanding and comparing local service delivery systems, their services, policies, decision-making structures and issues in relationship to local and broader communities
- familiarize students with the variety of opportunities to practice social work and the roles and responsibilities associated with them.

It is strongly suggested that students check content in SW441 and other assigned readings on diversity, populations-at-risk, discrimination, oppression, social justice and human rights AND proactively seek this information within your agency (in agency documents, interviews with workers) early in the semester, to adequately and accurately cover this in the report.

It is expected that the report will address all of the criteria identified in the Agency Analysis Paper and Presentation Grading Criteria (see Evaluation and Grading). The organizational chart is an attachment and is not included in total page requirement. Students will provide a brief 5 minute presentation and summary report in seminar that consists of a general overview of the agency (mission statement and purpose, demographic characteristics of those served, brief description of services) and how you fit into the agency/what you will do. There will be other opportunities during the semester (e.g., when responding to practice questions for each week including those on oppression and empowerment, and dimensions of diversity) to share more specific information from the report such as human rights, social and economic issues; power and decision making; and demographics.

It will be helpful for students to also review the social work competencies and behaviors included in this syllabus. Please also review your report before handing it in to ensure that all criteria are included and that it is your final version. The criteria will be used for grading. In fairness to all, there is no opportunity to address missed criteria later. Graduate and undergraduate students have different grading rubrics (see LEARN@UW).

Agency Analysis Report and Presentation (Undergraduate Students) 10 points*

Note: This assignment should be three-four typed, double spaced pages

- Brief history of agency and mission statement (1 points)
- Current structure (organizational chart written or adapted/updated by student, describe how you fit into the agency/what you will do describe who does what and what their qualifications) (1 points)
- Budget settings (if agency is large, please get figures for your local unit, so that we can compare, typical salary for line staff personnel, a range or average will do, list funding sources and percent of each (1 points)
- Described population(s) served: diversity (e.g., percentage of racial & ethnic groups, class, age, gender); if at-risk, how and why at-risk and current human rights, social & economic issues of the population(s) (1 points)
- List and briefly described client services and which of the human rights and social and economic issues they are to address. Also describe how services are determined/selected and delivered (1 points)
- Power - (in your opinion, where does the power lie in your organization? Why do you think so? Describe how policies are determined/how decisions are made) (3 points)
- Overall organization and clarity, adherence to formatting instructions (1 point)
- General organization and quality of presentation (1 point)

Agency Analysis Report and Presentation (Graduate Students) 10points*

Note: This assignment should be five-six typed, double spaced pages.

- Brief history of agency and mission statement (1 point)
- Current structure: (organizational chart written or adapted/updated by student, describe how you fit into the agency/what you will do, describe who roles and responsibilities and qualifications (degrees and experience of supervisor, Director, and other key personnel) (1 points)
- Budget settings: if agency is large, please get figures for your local unit, so that we can compare, provided typical salary for line staff personnel (a range or average will do), list funding sources and percent of each (1 points)

- Described population(s) served: diversity (e.g., percentage of racial & ethnic groups, class, age, gender); if at-risk, how and why at-risk AND current human rights, social & economic issues of the population(s) (1 points)
- List and briefly described client services AND which of the human rights and social and economic issues they are to address. Also describe how services are determined/selected and delivered (include an assessment of the strengths and weaknesses related to this area specific to the agency) (1 points)
- Power: in your opinion, where does power lie in the organization? Why do you think so (for example: money, decision-making on resources, access to information, etc.)? Describe how policies are determined/how decisions are made. What barriers do you see related to decision making and implementation of policies and services? What recommendations do you have for improvement (3 points)
 - General organization and quality of paper. Paper will be judged on the overall quality of the critical thinking of the author (1 point)
 - General organization and quality of presentation (1 point)

B. Change Agent Proposal (due fall semester) and Change Agent Assignment (final project due in spring semester)

Students will begin a change agent project in the fall and complete it in the spring semester. Utilizing the planned change process, the project would seek to mitigate or resolve an issue, problem or situation at the meso/mezzo or macro level. Students note that it is helpful to begin the assessment process during the fall semester to allow for sufficient time to complete and evaluate interventions or strategies before the end of the school year. The purpose of the assignment is to learn more about human rights, social, economic, cultural and other issues experienced by women, children, persons of various ethnic and racial groups, and LGBTQ groups. If interested in other populations, contact the field faculty member. Graduate level students are expected to identify a more comprehensive evaluation method including drafting and attaching, to the outline, an evaluation tool that could be used.

This project focuses on:

- applicable social worker roles and interventions
- developing or enhancing knowledge, skills and values regarding a meso/mezzo or macro change effort
- utilizing the planned change process
- learning social work roles and intervention involved in change efforts
- complete and evaluate, to the extent possible, a change effort that is effective, efficient and sustainable
- develop or enhance knowledge, skills and values regarding working in teams (with other seminar students and/or with others in your field placement and the community)

Students would be using social work theory, methods, principles, and concepts learned in SW 441, 606, 711, 640, other courses, and assigned readings to complete this assignment. During the fall semester, students will begin to assess for possible issues and targets and discuss these in seminar. This will include evaluating their agency for “user friendliness” in a number of areas: program, services, communications, organization policies and procedures, mission, training, and evaluation. For example, if students choose policies and/or procedure, they would attend to the impact of agency policies and practices, and larger-system social policies and practices, on the diverse clients receiving services at their placement. They could gather information in a number of ways including: listening carefully to clients' experiences, and being alert to ways in which social problems, oppression, limited resources, and/or agency and social policies impact them; asking questions; reading agency and other reports or related literature; and visiting with their agency supervisor and other staff to discuss experiences, concerns, and thoughts about the effects of various policies and social problems. Students are also encouraged to consider and attend to the impact of agency policies and practices, and larger-system social policies and practices, on the diverse clients receiving services at your field placement.

This project begins in the fall to allow sufficient time to complete and evaluate interventions or strategies before the end of the spring semester. For the fall semester, students will complete a brief, written proposal outline of their plan for the change agent project. This proposal will provide a starting point for a SW401 & SW801 assignment, in which students will be asked to formulate and carry out a change project with clients, colleagues, peers, or other constituencies. A written outline and final outcome report will be completed in the spring semester. The agency supervisor must be familiar with and support the proposal and the feedback from the agency supervisor must be provided in the outline/proposal. The proposal must also include the following; a brief description of what the student plans to do and how they will do it, why they have selected this project, what their intended impact will be (the outcome expected), who the key players in the project will be, and how they will evaluate it. Graduate level students are expected to identify a more comprehensive evaluation method including drafting and attaching, to the outline, an evaluation tool that could be used. While not required for the outline proposal, it is strongly recommended that students begin to determine whether there is research/literature that informs and supports their project, as a literature review will be a required component of the final spring assignment. On the day that the proposal is due in class, students will briefly (5 minutes) share what they will do and how they will do it. Graduate and undergraduate students have different grading sheets (see CANVAS).

Change Agent Report and Presentation (Undergraduate Students) 10 points*

- Proposal included a brief yet detailed description of the student's plan for the change agent project. (1 points)
- Proposal included justification/reasoning for selecting their change agent project (i.e. how/why did you select this project?). (2 points)
- Student describes who the key players in the project will be (including feedback from the agency supervisor). (2 points)
- Student project is reflective of the goals of the change agent assignment, including making a lasting positive impact on vulnerable or at risk populations and addressing issues such as oppression, social justice, agency user-friendliness, and barriers to services. (2 points)
- Identify a comprehensive evaluation method including drafting and attaching, to the outline, an evaluation tool that could be used (providing rationale for using this specific evaluation tool). (2 points)
- Paper is professionally written, using proper grammar, spelling, and punctuation. (1 points)

Change Agent Report and Presentation (Graduate Students) 10 points*

- Proposal included a brief yet detailed description of the student's plan for the change agent project. (1

points)

- Proposal included justification/reasoning for selecting their change agent project (i.e. how/why did you select this project?) 2 points)
- Student describes who the key players in the project will be (including feedback from the agency supervisor). (2 points)
- Student project is reflective of the goals of the change agent assignment, including making a lasting positive impact on vulnerable or at risk populations and addressing issues such as oppression, social justice, agency user-friendliness, and barriers to services. (2 points)
- Identify a comprehensive evaluation method including drafting and attaching, to the outline, an evaluation tool that could be used (providing rationale for using this specific evaluation tool). (2 points)
- Paper is professionally written, using proper grammar, spelling, and punctuation. (1 point)

C. Learning Plan

A sample format for the learning plan is provided for the student to follow when developing their learning plan. The Learning Plan will require input and approval of your agency supervisor, and should include the following:

*Agency Overview: Agency name and services provided, population served by the agency, and the agency's organizational/power structure (please attach an organizational chart).

*Establish at least one specific goal to be met at the agency that is aimed at furthering your development of skills in each of the nine competency areas, keeping in mind the required behaviors for the concentration year. Remember that the seminar assignments and the field placement will contribute to your skills and abilities, so your goals can reflect "making progress" towards the requirements and focus on the skills you will be working to develop at the agency.

Each goal should be clearly written and followed by:

- a) A description of experiences and methods you will use to reach your goal
- b) A description of what your agency supervisor will do in support of your goal
- c) A statement that describes how you, your agency supervisory, and I will know that each goal has been met.

*A description of your field placement activities. This section should include direct practice assignments, case management responsibilities, readings required or recommended by your agency supervisor that are known at the outset, meetings/staffings you will attend, agency or community trainings you will attend that are identified now, and involvement in program development or procedures policy review.

*Self-care plan.

*Field placement schedule.

*Field placement supervision plan and schedule.

Your Learning Plan needs to be signed by you and your supervisor prior to turning it in on the due date and your supervisor should keep a copy. I will review the plan and sign it. If any revisions are required, you will need to provide your agency supervisor with an updated copy. This is an ungraded assignment but a requirement to complete the course.

D. Record of Field Hours

Students are required to use the form provided in class to record weekly how many hours you were present at your field placement. Keep in mind that missed hours must be made up. Time spent traveling to your placement does NOT count towards field hours; however, time spent traveling from a field placement to in-home sessions or community meetings or to sites of other placement activities in the course of your fieldwork does apply. Your attendance at field seminars, orientation sessions, and the end-of-semester field meeting counts towards your field practice hours. Students are encouraged to consult with their agency supervisor at the beginning of the semester to inquire how frequently they want to review the hourly log.

This is an all or nothing assignment. If hours are not completed and arrangements for continuing the placement over the semester break have not been made in advance with the field faculty member and the agency supervisor, or the record is not submitted on time; passing students will be given a grade of “Incomplete” for the semester until the Record of Field Hours is submitted with signatures, and students are unable to begin a new semester with an “Incomplete.”

E. Essay on the book Janesville (BSW Students only) BSW students will write a 3 page (double-spaced) essay with reference to the book Janesville. The essay will address what the student considers the top three lessons learned from the book regarding social work practice and the social justice mission of our profession. You should also speculate on how social workers at the local level could have more effectively responded to the presenting situation. This assignment is due October 26.

VII. Course Policies

Your final course grade will be based on your work both in your work at your field placement and your field seminar.

Reading Assignments:

Students are expected to have read all assigned material prior to the class date under which the readings are listed above. Reading and critically evaluating what you have read is necessary so that you can learn, actively participate in class discussions, and successfully complete written assignments.

Confidentiality:

Confidentiality is of utmost importance. In both written assignments and oral discussions and presentations, the rules of confidentiality, as expressed in the NASW Code of Ethics, are to be strictly observed. It is imperative to protect client identity at all times. The same rules apply to dialogue concerning co-workers or professionals and staff at the field placement site and/or agency of employment. Do not share information that would violate the confidentiality of clients or embarrass coworkers.

Written Assignment Policy:

All written assignments are to be either typed or computer-generated using Microsoft Word. Please format these assignments using one-inch margins, double-spacing, and a Times New Roman 12-point font. Always include a cover sheet (not counted as one of the required pages) with the title of the paper, your name, the date turned into the field faculty member, course number, and course title (do not put this information on the first page of your paper). You must use correct APA format for citations; consult the UW writing center's guide for APA formatting (<http://writing.wisc.edu/Handbook/DocAPA.html>). When required to use references, you must use peer-reviewed journals. Websites may only be used with prior approval from the field faculty member. Failure to comply with these expectations will result in a loss of points. All assignments should be checked thoroughly for correct spelling and grammar.

Late Assignment Policy:

The assignments listed above are due at the beginning of the class period on the date specified. Students who believe they have a legitimate reason for turning in a late assignment should contact the field faculty member prior to the due date. Unapproved late assignments will be marked down three points for each day they are late.

Accommodation Due to a Disability:

If you require accommodations to obtain equal access to this class or to any assignments that I may give, please contact me as soon as possible. I want all students to have an excellent learning experience. Students who are requesting an accommodation due to a disability are expected to inform the field faculty member and provide verification (e.g., from the McBurney Disability Resource Center) at the beginning of the semester or as soon as the need for an accommodation is determined.

Academic Misconduct:

Please note the following definition of academic honesty. "Academic honesty requires that the course work (drafts, reports, examinations, papers) a student presents to an instructor honestly and accurately reflects the student's own academic efforts. UWS14.03 cites that (among other things) Academic Misconduct Subject to Disciplinary Action includes an "act in which a student seeks to claim credit for the work or efforts of another without authorization or citation". Examples include, but are not limited to: "cutting and pasting text from the web without quotation marks or proper citation; paraphrasing from the web without crediting the source, using another person's ideas, words or research and presenting it as one's own by not properly crediting the originator, etc.

Incomplete Policy:

According to University policy, an Incomplete may only be given when students, who have otherwise made good progress in the course, are prohibited from completing the course as a result of an emergency or crisis event in their lives. A grade of Incomplete or “T” will not be given unless the student meets the university policy criteria, and also contacts the field faculty member prior to the end of the semester to explain the situation and make arrangements for making up the required work.

Attendance & Class Participation Policy:

Class attendance is required of all students. Attendance is defined as arriving on time, staying through the entire class, and leaving only for scheduled breaks. In order for you and your classmates to benefit from this course, attendance and active participation are expected. Attendance will be taken at the beginning and end of each class and I will note your level of participation. If you are unable to attend class, please email me prior to class so that you can receive an excused absence; you may receive one per semester. Three points will be deducted from your grade for each unexcused absence incurred.

Technology in Class:

A minimal level of external distractions is essential to a productive learning environment. Cellphones, iPods, iPads, and any other electronic devices are not to be used in seminar. Students are required to turn cell phones off or on vibrate before entering the classroom. Taking calls during class time interrupts teaching and learning. Please review the school’s policy on professional conduct which can be found in the Student Rights and Responsibilities Handbook pp. 10-12 Professional Conduct in All the Social Work Degree Programs.

Student Behavior Policy:

In order to learn, we must be open to the views of people different from ourselves. Each and every voice in the classroom is important and brings with it a wealth of experiences, values and beliefs. In this time we share together over the semester, please honor the uniqueness of your fellow classmates, and appreciate the opportunity we have to learn from each other. Please respect your fellow students’ opinions and refrain from personal attacks or demeaning comments of any kind. Finally, remember to keep confidential all issues of a personal or professional nature discussed in class. The following is a list of expectations of student’s display of personal integrity and professionalism, and successful adherence to these expectations will be measured and incorporated into both the field seminar grade and the field placement grade.

- Use of cell phones is limited to scheduled breaks, both in the classroom and in the field.
- Laptops are not to be utilized during field seminar.
- Respect is displayed for viewpoints with which you may disagree.
- Respect is displayed for each student and colleague’s right to be heard.
- A capacity to respect and appreciate diversity is displayed.
- Appropriate materials are brought to class and field placement.
- Student has read materials and prepared for class.

- Student displays qualities of an active learner, including taking notes when appropriate.
- Student actively and constructively participates in classroom and field site discussion.
- Careful, respectful language is utilized in all verbal and written communication with classmates, field faculty member, and agency supervisor.
- Student solicits and incorporates feedback when there are questions about performance
- Both in the classroom and the field, student proactively seeks clarification (prior to assignment due dates) if guidance or assistance is needed.

Students are expected to maintain a level of professional behavior in and out of the classroom. Disrespectful and unprofessional behavior in the classroom and field will not be tolerated and will be reflected in the final course grade. Disrespectful behavior will be determined at the discretion of the field faculty member. Some examples of this behavior are, but not limited to, talking while others are speaking, sleeping in class and not being respectful to peers, field faculty or to guest speakers. Field seminar is an extension of the field placement. Your grade in field seminar is based on successful completion of the competencies and behaviors, both in seminar and in the field. It is important to review the section, Professional Conduct in All the Social Work Degree Programs, which can be found in the Student Rights and Responsibilities Handbook. If you have any concerns with this policy, or a concern that needs to be brought to the class's attention, please speak with this field faculty member. It is the student's responsibility to contact the field faculty member for any clarification on disrespectful and unprofessional behavior.

Code of Ethics, Professional Conduct & Plagiarism

Incoming BSW and MSW students read and signed electronic forms of the NASW Code of Ethics, the School of Social Work Plagiarism Policy and the School's Principles of Professional Conduct. In doing so, they agreed that while in the BSW or MSW Program they would honor the Code of Ethics and Principles of Professional Conduct, as well as adhere to the Plagiarism Policy and that should they not do so, sanctions would be imposed. BSW and MSW students are expected to adhere to these policies in the classroom and in the preparation of course assignments.

Plagiarism is a form of academic misconduct, which is not tolerated by the University or the School of Social Work. Plagiarism seeks to claim credit for the work or effort of another without citation or authorization.

The School of Social Work defines plagiarism as:

1. The appropriation of passages or complete works of another person and submitting them as one's own work – in either written materials or speeches.
2. The presentation of ideas of others as one's own without giving credit.

There are two major forms of plagiarism:

1. Using direct quotes from others' written or spoken work and presenting them as one's own words without using proper quotation marks or offsetting and/or with failure to identify the source of the ideas.
2. Paraphrasing the ideas or research findings of another person(s), with failure to identify the source of the ideas.

Note that slight changes to the author's original text, even with a citation, is plagiarism. Please see http://writing.wisc.edu/Handbook/QPA_paraphrase.html

Process:

- If an instructor suspects a student has plagiarized, the instructor will contact the student to discuss their concern.
- If the instructor determines that the student has plagiarized, the instructor will decide on a sanction in accordance with the misconduct rules in UWS 14.

Sanction:

- Based on the seriousness of the sanction, the instructor may inform the Dean of Student's Office. The only sanctions that can be imposed without notifying the Dean of Students Office are: 1) oral reprimand; 2) written reprimand presented only to the student; and 3) an assignment to repeat the work on its merits.
- More serious sanctions may include a zero on the assignment or exam, a lower grade in the course or failure in the course. The School of Social Work will inform the Dean of Student's Office when imposing any of these sanctions. This action is taken so the Dean of Student's Office can decide whether to seek additional sanctions.
- Repeated acts of academic misconduct may result in more serious actions such as removal from the course in progress, disciplinary probation or suspension, or expulsion (<http://www.students.wisc.edu/doso/acadintegrity.html>).
- Note: Students can appeal any sanctions.

Academic misconduct rules procedures can be found in UWS 14:

2.2.1 Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior. Social workers understand the value base of the profession and its ethical standards, as well as relevant laws and regulations that may impact practice at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels. Social workers understand frameworks of ethical decision-making and how to apply principles of critical thinking to those frameworks in practice, research, and policy arenas. Social workers recognize personal values and the distinction between personal and professional values. They also understand how their personal experiences and affective reactions influence their professional judgment and behavior. Social workers understand the profession’s history, its mission, and the roles and responsibilities of the profession. Social Workers also understand the role of other professions when engaged in inter-professional teams. Instructions for Evaluating Students on the Nine Competencies: Evaluation Component (Column 3)

The nine competencies specified in this evaluation form are those established by our national accrediting organization (the Council on Social Work Education). The student's learning plan has identified the learning opportunities (e.g., methods, activities, and assignments) available for the student to achieve these competencies. Under each competency statement are several indicators, i.e., behaviors, which we ask you to rate, according to the following criteria, based upon their performance of the measurable methods of achievement (the observable learning opportunities). Students demonstrate mastery of a set of behaviors tied to practice competencies that are related to the mission and goals of social work in the field placement. Students gain experience and focus on skill development in their field placements related to the behaviors associated with the competencies.

5	The student has excelled in this area.
4	The student is functioning somewhat above expectations for students in this area.
3	The student has met the expectations for students in this area.
2	The student is functioning somewhat below expectations for students in this area.
1	The student is functioning significantly below expectations for students in this area.
N/A	Not applicable, as the student has not had the opportunity to demonstrate competence in this area.*

Comments may be made under any competency statement, if desired. Please be sure to indicate those areas in which you think the student is particularly strong and those areas in which the student needs improvement. For the latter, please note specific strategies for making improvement or indicate that these will need to be identified during the three-way (agency supervisor, student and field faculty) evaluation meeting.

This evaluation is intended to give the student feedback about their performance. Students are expected to indicate if there are areas they do not understand and/or with which they do not agree. For the fall semester evaluation, the rating is based on what the student has accomplished to-date and how well they have accomplished it in terms of expectations, at that time, for achievement of the behavior. The spring end-of-semester rating indicates the "outcome" in terms of achieving the behavior. For the generalist level student, the desired outcome is that of entry-level generalist social work practitioner. The Field Faculty will determine the student's grade based on their overall evaluation of the student's performance in the field placement in conjunction with performance in the integrative seminar.

Note: The N/A rating is only applicable for the fall semester final evaluation.

Instructions for Evaluating Students on the Nine Competencies: Evaluation Component (Column 3)

The nine competencies specified in this evaluation form are those established by our national accrediting organization (the Council on Social Work Education). The student’s learning plan has identified the learning opportunities (e.g., methods, activities, and assignments) available for the student to achieve these competencies. Under each competency statement are several indicators, i.e., behaviors, which we ask you to rate, according to the following criteria, based upon their performance of the measurable methods of achievement (the observable learning opportunities). Students demonstrate mastery of a set of behaviors tied to practice competencies that are related to the mission and goals of social work in the field placement. Students gain experience and focus on skill development in their field placements related to the behaviors associated with the competencies.

5	The student has excelled in this area.
4	The student is functioning somewhat above expectations for students in this area.
3	The student has met the expectations for students in this area.
2	The student is functioning somewhat below expectations for students in this area.
1	The student is functioning significantly below expectations for students in this area.
N/A	Not applicable, as the student has not had the opportunity to demonstrate competence in this area.*

Comments may be made under any competency statement, if desired. Please be sure to indicate those areas in which you think the student is particularly strong and those areas in which the student needs improvement. For the latter, please note specific strategies for making improvement or indicate that these will need to be identified during the three-way (agency supervisor, student and field faculty) evaluation meeting.

This evaluation is intended to give the student feedback about their performance. Students are expected to indicate if there are areas they do not understand and/or with which they do not agree. For the fall semester evaluation, the rating is based on what the student has accomplished to-date and how well they have accomplished it in terms of expectations, at that time, for achievement of the behavior. The spring end-of-semester rating indicates the “outcome” in terms of achieving the behavior. For the generalist level student, the desired outcome is that of entry-level generalist social work practitioner. The Field Faculty will determine the student’s grade based on their overall evaluation of the student’s performance in the field placement in conjunction with performance in the integrative seminar. Note: The N/A rating is only applicable for the fall semester final evaluation.
