I. Course Description

Focuses on the core practice theories, conceptual frameworks and intervention skills necessary for social work practice in mental health.

Course designations and attributes: This course counts toward the 50% graduate coursework requirement

Course requisites: Graduate or professional standing

Credit hour statement: This class meets for one 115-minute class period each week over the spring semester and carries the expectation that students will work on course learning activities (reading, writing, studying) for about 4 hours out of classroom each week. The syllabus includes additional information about meeting times and expectations for student work.

II. Course Overview

The purpose of this course is to prepare students to understand how the interpersonal approach provides a foundation for clinical social work. Building on knowledge and skills identified in SW441: Generalist Practice with Individuals, Families & Groups and SW612: Generalist Psychopathology, this course moves to intervention planning, focusing on strategies that are effective and culturally appropriate, collaborative with the person seeking services, and based in the clinician's understanding of how change will be facilitated and evaluated across various treatment models. Engagement skills will be expanded to help students understand and observe interpersonal processes that contribute to positive therapeutic alliance and positive intervention outcomes. The course will discuss challenges based on multiple dimensions of diversity and the process of developing and maintaining an effective cross-cultural treatment alliance. Emphasis will also be placed on the development of self-knowledge and skills in self-reflective processes necessary to understand and address interpersonal process dynamics. This course meets the Advanced Practice requirement for the Advanced Generalist Curriculum. The focus or context for this Advanced Practice course is mental health. For non-mental health focus area students, this course may be taken as a free elective.

III. Course Competency, Description, and Dimensions

Social Work Education is framed by a competency-based approach to curriculum design. At the conclusion of their education, social work students are expected to be competent in 9 core areas. Competency is achieved through mastery of course content as measured through course activities, readings, assignments, and behaviors learned in field experiences, and which are derived from social work knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes. The competencies addressed in this course can be found in Appendix A.

ASSIGNMENTS

Assignment #1 Canvas On-line Discussions:

Due: 9/18/18; 10/2/18; 10/16/18; 11/6/18; and 11/20/18; must post on 3 out of 5 discussions

Value: 3 points each for total of 9 points

Throughout the semester you will complete three of five Canvas online discussions. The purpose of this assignment is to give you a chance to demonstrate that you are keeping up with the course material and integrating it into your thinking about advanced practices in mental health. Additionally, it will allow you to have a discussion with your peers on information we may only touch upon in class or readings/topics that you would like to continue exploring. The Canvas discussion will allow us to dive more deeply into topics that are of interest to you or that you wish to extend the class discussion on.

For this assignment, you will participate in an online discussion with your fellow classmates on the Canvas platform. I will start the discussion by posting some comments/questions/or relevant topic related to that week's material (or something that came up in class). You will need to respond to at least three discussion posts (your choice) in the following ways in order to receive full credit. First, you must respond initially to the posted question/discussion (assuming approximately no less than one paragraph). This response should not only answer the question(s) posed, but provide a significant response back, along with another question for the group's discussion. Second, in addition to answering the posed discussion question(s) from me and posting your own original question, you must reply to one of your fellow classmates' posts (to the original question(s)) in a meaningful and thoughtful way. Remember, the same classroom etiquette that is expected when in person is to be followed for your online presence. I will be monitoring all discussion boards and any disrespectful discourse will result in a "0" for this assignment.

Each Canvas Discussion will be graded with the following rubric:

Respond initially to the posted question/discussion. The response is thoughtful and engaging to other readers and substantial enough to highlight the author's point of view.	1 point
Another relevant and/or thoughtful question is posed to the online discussion (this may include other resources the author wishes for us to view or consider).	1 point
Replied to a fellow classmates' post at least once in a meaningful and thoughtful way	1 point
Total Points	3 points

Assignment #2:

For Assignment #2, the student gets to choose between 2 options (either Assignment 2a or Assignment 2b). Each assignment is described below. The due date for deciding which assignment you are choosing will be Week 2 (9/18/18; and a handout will be distributed in class for signing up).

Assignment #2a: Reflection Papers (2 in total)

Due: 9/25/18 & 10/30/18 @ 3:00 pm

Value: 2 papers at 10 points each (20 points total)

In this assignment, you are asked to write specifically on the topic of your anxieties or insecurities as a social work therapist-in-training. In the first reflection paper, you will address how you recognize your anxiety/insecurities especially around issues of difference and diversity, avoid countertransference issues, and manage these anxieties and affective reactions to effectively engage with your clients. In the second reflection paper, you will be asked to write about a situation in your clinical practice/internship in which you were aware of a difference (e.g. age, race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, incarceration status, etc.) between you and a client, and how you handled/addressed the difference (or did not) with the client. What power or privilege did you hold and how did that make you feel? Further, what strategy did you employ to move forward with positively engaging in a therapeutic alliance with the person? In each paper will be looking for content that reflects critical thinking, self-awareness and consideration of how your own beliefs and feelings impact your interaction with clients.

Detailed instructions for each paper will be handed out in class and posted on Canvas.

Reflection Paper #1 is to be submitted to the Canvas course site by 9/25/18 @ 3:00 pm and Reflection Paper #2 is to be submitted to the Canvas course site by 10/30/18 @ 3:00 pm. These assignments will be graded according to the following rubric:

Thoroughly answers each question posed	/1
Reflects thoughtfully and critically on the questions posed and demonstrates an exploration of one's own thoughts and feelings (self-awareness) about their clinical social work practice (e.g. connects the reflection to their practice).	/3
Illustrates a depth to the self-reflection (e.g. does not just point out the superficial or obvious, but analyzes specific feelings/thoughts/behaviors more deeply) and presents further insights and ideas	/3
Demonstrate proficient understanding of how your own beliefs and feelings of diversity and difference may impact your social work practice	/2
Organization/Grammar/Clarity/Spelling	/1
Total	/10

Assignment #2b: Teaching a Skill or Brief Intervention

Due: Ongoing during class time throughout the semester (students will sign up for presentation times in Week 3 (9/25/18)). All presentations will be completed no later than 12/4/18.

Value: 20 points

The purpose of this assignment is to give you the opportunity to gain practice teaching a coping skill, a core therapeutic skill, or short intervention for consumers to the rest of the class. This assignment allows students to get feedback on practice in order to increase your clinical skills and to learn a variety of skills and/or interventions from other students.

Students will work in pairs (of your choosing) to teach a coping skill or intervention to the class. You are expected to work together to explain and teach the skill. You may choose to each teach a small skill that complement each other (such as 2 kinds of grounding exercises for trauma) or you may choose to work together to teach a more involved skill (explaining and then demonstrating how to use passive vs assertive communication). You may choose to have a small discussion be part of your teaching (Asking your group what kind of negative self-talk comes up for them?). In another example, if you are teaching the skill of mindfulness, you may want to lead the class through a brief mindfulness experience and ask them to share what the experience was like and discuss what sort of clients they think may also benefit from this skill. Other examples of core skills to choose from may be: identifying a presenting problem, building a rapport with motivational interviewing skills, identifying distorted thinking patterns, strategies for creating safe spaces, or techniques used with specialized populations (e.g. older adults, young children). You may talk with me about other possibilities or use your peers to brainstorm.

The presentation should be 10-15 minutes with up to 5 minutes for feedback and processing with the group.

Detailed instructions for this assignment will be handed out in class and posted on Canvas.

These class presentations will be graded according to the following rubric:

Instructions are clear and well-paced. Intervention is of an appropriate length (~ 15 minutes).	/2
Demonstrates earnest attempts to apply knowledge and skills learned in class.	/3
Consistently clear, attentive, responsive and engaging with the group	/5
Total	/10

Assignment #3: Book Discussion on “The Color of Hope: People of Color Mental Health Narratives”

Students will be divided into groups of 5-7 (randomly assigned) and participate in a book discussion reviewing The Color of Hope: People of Color Mental Health Narratives by Vanessa Hazzard & Iresha Picot. This book discussion will occur during 1 hour of class time on 10/2/18. Students will be asked to generate 3 questions stemming from the reading and submit them ahead of time (Sunday, 9/30/18 @ 11:59 p.m. via email to the professor). I will choose one question from each participant that will form the basis of our discussion.

You will be graded by (1) submitting, on-time, three questions that each demonstrate critical thinking about some part of the narratives from the book The Color of Hope: People of Color Mental Health Narratives; (2) actively participating in the book discussion with peers which includes engaging at a moderate or high-level with students during the group discussion; (3) illustrating via the contributions they make to the overall discussion that they are familiar with the book; (4) listening thoughtfully, and modeling professional and behavior, including the use of person-first language throughout the discussion. The grading rubric for this assignment is outlined below:

	Comments	Points
All 3 questions were submitted via email on time		/1
Each question demonstrated critical thinking about some part of one narrative		/1
Student actively participates in the book discussion with peers; Engages at a moderate or high-level with students during the group discussion; thoughtfully listens and replies to others.		/5
Based on participation, there is indication the student is familiar with the material in the book		/1
Student is professional, respectful, and uses person-first language throughout the discussion		/2
Total		/10

I will divide my time among all the groups in order to assign you a grade. The purpose of this assignment is for students to engage in discussion and dialog around different ways mental health intersects with various identities and read first-person accounts of people of color living with mental illnesses. Additionally, it is my hope that rather than having you write individual papers, that we can utilize the synergy of group discussion to be exposed to different viewpoints and opinions that enhances everyone's learning around the topics of race and mental health treatment.

Assignment #4: Small Group Theoretical Research & Presentations

Due: Presentations: 10/16/18 and 10/23/18; Paper due: 11/6/18 @ 11:59 p.m. to Canvas

Value: 25 points

Advanced social work practice in mental health requires social workers to have a full range of theoretical approaches that drive treatment decisions and interventions (Turner, 2017). The purpose of this assignment is to introduce you to a broad array of theoretical approaches, each of which highlight a different aspect of the human condition and assist you in critically evaluating one approach. By having knowledge of broader-based theoretical approaches for your social work practice, it may assist you in not becoming overly identified with one narrow focus that limits understanding of diverse clients and their contexts.

This assignment is worth 25 points and presentations will be held in class on either October 16 or 23, 2018 and papers due on November 6, 2018 at 11:59 p.m.

The following are the steps for this assignment:

Step 1: Choose a partner for the assignment.

Step 2: With your partner, choose a theoretical approach you will research and present to the class. I will supply the class with a list of theoretical approaches you may choose from or you may also offer up a theoretical approach you are interested in (and not on the list).

Step 3: Conduct a literature search and gather information on your chosen theoretical approach. Make sure that the information is from reputable sources (e.g. texts, credible websites, peer-reviewed journals). Between you and your partner, you should have no less than 5 resources. You will be asked to highlight one reading/resource to assign to the class that informs them in some way on your theoretical approach (this to be turned into me via email no later than the day of the presentation).

Step 4: Prepare to present your findings to the class. Specifically, be ready to:

- a) Briefly summarize the theoretical approach
- b) Provide the main tenets or components of the approach
- c) Identify some positive outcomes of the approach (e.g. who gets better, under what circumstances? Are there also other implications of using this approach?)
- d) Identify the theoretical approach's limitations (e.g. what are the criticisms of the approach?)
- e) Highlight any pertinent information on the theoretical approach's use with a diverse population and critically analyze the approach's applicability to a diverse population (e.g. does the literature talk about the approach specific to various diverse populations (age? race? ethnicity? gender? Is it hard to tell?)
- f) List what an intervention from this theoretical orientation may look like.
- g) Summarize if you feel you will end up using this approach in your social work practice and why/why not.

Step 5: Create a 1-2-page handout that you can provide to your classmates on the above information during the day of your presentation.

Step 6: Present the theoretical approach to the class (guidelines for the class presentations will be discussed in class but will resemble a "speed dating" format). The presentations will provide the opportunity for students to gain knowledge on multiple theoretical approaches and to analyze if the presented approach may be one that they adopt within their own social work practice.

Step 6: Write-up your findings in a paper using the delineated talking points in Step 4 above. This paper should be between 7-10 pages and cover all the points of your presentation. Papers must be typed, double-spaced, use 1-inch margins, be in 12 pt. Times New Roman font and have proper APA citations and formatting (use APA style with in-text parenthetical references as well as a reference list). Remember that material that is not correctly cited will be considered plagiarized. Pages should be numbered. This assignment should be checked thoroughly for correct spelling and grammar.

Reminder: Papers due into Canvas on 11/6/18 by 11:59 pm.

Assignment #5: Person-Centered Treatment Plan Creation

Due: 12/11/18 @ 11:59 pm to Canvas

Value: 30 points

One of the most important skills you will repeatedly use as a clinical social worker, in any setting, will be to partner with your client to create the steps to achieve (self-defined) recovery. While that sounds easy, creating the roadmap to how that will be accomplished takes great skill, especially if creating a person-centered, strengths-based treatment plan (and not all agencies do this). According to Adams & Grieder (2012), this means “achieving shared understanding and establishing common ground” early on (p. xiii).

The purpose of this assignment is to give you practice and guidance on the creation of a person-centered treatment plan. This assignment will help you apply knowledge gained from lecture and class materials and integrate it with experience obtained from working with clients in your internship.

Instructions: The following are the steps for this assignment:

Step 1: Provide context for a client you are working with, or a fictional client (realize the assignment will have more practical value if you choose a person you are currently working with). Do NOT provide real names and make sure that in your description you protect the person's confidentiality. Do provide enough information that I can understand the clinical picture (e.g. demographics, diagnosis, presenting issues, reason for seeking services, etc. Think of it as you are a clinician and you are going on vacation and passing on just the pertinent information to a colleague who will cover for you in your absence). I need to be able to understand what the presenting issue(s) is/are, and what the person's goals are. If you have already completed an integrated summary (and in real practice this step would come before the treatment planning creation) feel free to submit that as part of the assignment (again, making sure all information is redacted, protecting the person's confidentiality). Be sure to include any cultural considerations that will factor into treatment considerations.

Step 2: List out all of the person’s goals.

Step 3: List the person’s strengths.

Step 4: List any barriers to achieving the goals you identify (in conjunction with the person and/or his/her/their natural support or family systems).

Step 5: Choosing one of the above listed goals (if more than 1), begin to create a person-centered treatment plan for the client identified in Step 1. This will include the following:

- (a) a minimum of one goal that is what the client wants to achieve;
- (b) a minimum of three objectives that support achieving the outlined goal in (a);
- (c) a minimum of three interventions for each objective listed in (b) above.

Step 6: Write a brief reflection on why you chose the interventions indicated to treat the presenting need.

Step 7: Write a brief assessment on what barriers (1-2 paragraphs) you feel may present and corresponding strategies for assisting the client to get around these barriers.

Step 8: Write a brief assessment (1 -2 paragraphs) on how you used any of the client’s strengths to inform the interventions you chose.

Step 9: Make the argument for medical necessity of your services.

Step 10: Reflect on the process of writing a person-centered plan. How did you approach and engage the person to find out what their goals were? What were the challenges in this, if any? What came easily to you? What did you have more difficulty with? Why do you think that was? How may your own personal experiences (and/or biases) or affective reactions to the client influence the assessment and treatment planning process? What insights did you gain from the assignment?

The person-centered treatment planning assignment will be graded on the following rubric:

Provides a comprehensive and clinically clear picture of the individual receiving services	2 points
DSM-V Diagnoses are clear and written correctly	1 point
Identifies the individual’s goals, including writing the goal in a measurable way	3 points
Identifies the individual’s strengths	3 points
Identifies the individual’s barriers	1 point
Delineates three objectives that support achieving the outlined goal and are written utilizing the SMART criterion	4 points
Delineates three clinically appropriate interventions that are written utilizing the SMART criterion	4 points
Provides a brief rationale for interventions, including how they will support achieving the goal	2 points
Provides a brief reflection on what barriers may arise and corresponding strategies for assisting the client to get around the stated barriers.	2 points
The plan utilizes client strengths to inform at least one intervention.	2 points
At least one intervention or objective includes the person’s natural supports or family/friends	1 point
The overall treatment plan is strengths-based, and person-centered	1 point
Clear and convincing link to medical necessity is established.	1 point

Reflects on the process of creating a person-centered treatment plan. This reflection includes depth and a critical self-analysis.	2 points
Organization/Grammar/Clarity/Spelling/Following paper guidelines	1 point
Total	30 points

Participation/Professionalism

Due: 12/11/18

Value: 6 points

Participation is REQUIRED. Effective participation consists of having completed readings and other assignments, the ability to integrate social work concepts with field and other experiences, AND the ability to fully engage in problem solving and other exercises (presenting social work issues or other perspectives for discussion as well as responding to other students who present issues). It also includes arriving to class on time. You are required to be an alert, attentive and active participant in this class. This includes attentive non-verbal behavior and offering comments relevant to course dialogue. Participation can be challenging for some students. Please see instructor EARLY in the semester if you need any assistance in this or any other areas, as students will be expected to actively participate in each class. As part of your participation grade, a self-reflection and rating of your own participation will be required at the end of the semester.

Extra Credit Opportunity

A student may earn up to 2 extra credit points by posting on an additional Discussion Post (you are required to do 3 but may post on a 4th one). You may only earn the 2 extra credit points once. All outlined criteria for the discussion posts and grading rubric can be found on pages 14-15. You must post on the discussion during the week it is activated (no going back at the end of the semester and posting on the first online discussion).

VII. Course Policies

Classroom Climate:

Classroom climate, or the way a classroom space feels to everyone in the room based on communication, norms, values and processes, impacts participation, motivation and learning. Meeting course objectives requires that the instructor and students actively work to create a learning environment that is respectful and safe so that ideas can be examined honestly, diverse viewpoints shared, and in-class activities approached with maximum curiosity and enthusiasm. In order to learn, we must be open to the views of people different from ourselves. Diversity in beliefs, ideas and lived experiences are highly valued here. Each student has knowledge and experience that will enhance the learning of their colleagues and each voice is important. In our time together over the semester, please honor the uniqueness of your fellow classmates, and appreciate the opportunity we have to learn from each other. Because the class will represent diverse individual beliefs, backgrounds, and experiences, every member of this class must show respect for every other member of this class. We will share the challenges of upholding our community guidelines and responding to moments when we fail to abide by them. Students will be held accountable for what they are expressing verbally and nonverbally. Students are expected to keep confidential all issues of a personal or professional nature discussed in class.

I am firmly committed to diversity and equality in all areas of campus life and building an inclusive classroom space where everyone feels safe and welcome. I recognize that we all have biases. Discrimination can be direct or indirect and take place at both institutional and personal levels. I believe that such discrimination is unacceptable and I am committed to providing equality of opportunity for all by eliminating any discrimination, harassment, bullying, or victimization. I invite you to bring any concerns in this regard to my attention.

Student Wellness

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning. These might include strained relationships, anxiety, high levels of stress, alcohol/drug problems, racism, feeling down, and/or loss of motivation. University Health Services (UHS) can help with these or other issues you may be experiencing. You can learn about the free, confidential mental health services available on campus by calling (608)265-5600 or visiting www.uhs.wisc.edu. Help is always available.

Other student support services and programs include:

- Multicultural Student Center <https://msc.wisc.edu/>
- LGBT Campus Center <https://lgbt.wisc.edu/>
- Dean of Students Office <https://www.students.wisc.edu/doso/>

Below are resources for reporting and responding to incidences of bias and hate on campus.

- Report: <https://students.wisc.edu/doso/services/bias-reporting-process>
- Bias Response and Advocacy Coordinator email: reportbias@wisc.edu
- UW-Madison Police Department: uwpd.wisc.edu
- Office of Equity and Diversity: www.oed.wisc.edu/

You may also report incidents in-person to the Dean of Students Office, 70 Bascom Hall, during normal business hours. Reportable incidents include crimes such as vandalism or physical assault, as well as non-academic misconduct, slurs, and intimidation. Anyone who files a report will have the opportunity to meet with the Bias Response and Advocacy Coordinator, so that we can meet their needs and ensure their safety.

Support for Survivors of Sexual Violence

If a student comes to me to discuss or disclose an instance of sexual assault, sex discrimination, sexual harassment, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking, or if I otherwise observe or become aware of such an allegation, I will keep the information as private as I can. However, Chapter 36.11 (22), Wisconsin Statutes, requires “any person employed at [UW-Madison] who witnesses a sexual assault on campus or receives a report from a student enrolled in the institution that the student has been sexually assaulted shall report to the dean of students of the institution. The dean of students shall compile reports for the purpose of disseminating statistical information.” As a faculty member, I am therefore required to report to the dean of students.

Out-of-Class Contact with Instructor

I encourage students to meet with me outside of class to discuss concerns, answer questions and provide comments and feedback. I am usually available to meet briefly right before class, during break and right after class ends. Rather than holding office hours, I prefer to meet with students by appointment. Please email me with a request to arrange a time to meet. I am happy to meet students in the Social Work Library or the Wisconsin Institutes for Discovery coffee shop if this is a more comfortable and welcoming space for you.

Electronics:

To minimize disruptions to class process all devices must be turned off during the class period unless the professor gives instructions to utilize electronic devices for a class activity. If you have an urgent reason for leaving your phone on, please inform the instructor prior to the class beginning. If there is a medical or other serious need for these devices, please speak to the instructor before class. Audio recording of classes will be allowed only after full disclosure to the class that an audio recorder is operating. The professor reserves the right to ask you to leave if your use of electronics is distracting to her or other students.

Note on Accommodation of Student Disability:

The University of Wisconsin-Madison supports the right of all enrolled students to a full and equal educational opportunity. The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Wisconsin State Statute (36.12), and UW-Madison policy (Faculty Document 1071) require that students with disabilities be reasonably accommodated in instruction and campus life. Reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities is a shared faculty and student responsibility. Students requiring accommodation, as approved by the McBurney Center, are expected to provide the instructor with a copy of their Faculty Notification Letter by the second week of the semester, or as soon as possible after a disability has been incurred or recognized. For more information, please contact the McBurney Center at mcburney@odos.wisc.edu; Phone at 608-263-2741; Text messaging at 608-225-7956; or by FAX at 608-265-2998, 711 (Via relay); 702 W. Johnson St., #2104, Madison, WI.

I will work directly with you and in coordination with the McBurney Center to identify and provide reasonable instructional accommodations. Disability information, including instructional accommodations as part of a student's educational record, is confidential and protected under FERPA. If you require accommodations to obtain equal access to this class or to any assignments, please contact me as soon as possible.

Attendance Policy:

Students are expected to attend all scheduled classes and to arrive on time.

- Promptness

Prompt arrival to all classes is required. Repeated tardiness will impact your grade. I will consider a late arrival or early departure of more than 20 minutes an absence.

- Absence

If you must miss class you are required to inform me via email in advance. Students are responsible for completing any class requirements for the day missed, and for obtaining from a fellow classmate any assignments, materials, and communications missed due to absence, late arrival, or early departure. Students who must be absent due to inclement weather or other emergencies must contact me prior to the start of class. Students who are absent three or more times in the semester will be required to schedule a meeting with the instructor to discuss their performance and continuation in the course. Three or more absences may lead to a student receiving a failing grade.

Religious Holidays:

I recognize that students' choices to observe religious holidays that occur during periods when classes are scheduled. Students are encouraged to arrange with their professor to make-up work missed as a result of religious observance, and instructors are asked to make every reasonable effort to accommodate such requests.

Reading and Media Assignments:

You are expected to have read, viewed and listened to all assigned material prior to the class date under which the readings are listed above. Reading and critically evaluating what you have read is necessary so that you can learn, actively participate in class discussions, and successfully complete written assignments.

Canvas

All students are required to access Canvas for course content and assignments. If you have difficulty with Canvas, you should contact the DoIT helpdesk.

Late assignment policy

Assignments are due on the date and time specified in this syllabus. If you are not able to be in class the day a written assignment is due, you are still responsible for turning in your assignment on the due date. If a student a) communicates with me at least 24 hours prior to the due date, b) provides a reasonable justification for an extension, and c) we come to an agreement about a revised deadline, the assignment handed in by the new date will be considered "on time." Unapproved late assignments will be marked down 1 point for each day the assignment is late.

Written Assignment Policy:

1. All written assignments are to be completed in Microsoft Word, without exception. The instructor will not review assignments submitted in another format.
2. Always include a cover sheet (not counted as one of the required pages) with the title of the paper, your name, the date turned into the instructor, course number, and course title (do not put this information on the first page of your paper or in a header).
3. Students must format assignments using one-inch margins, double-spacing, and a Times New Roman 12-point font unless indicated otherwise.
4. You must use correct APA format for citations. Consult the UW writing center's guide for APA formatting (<http://writing.wisc.edu/Handbook/DocAPA.html>).
5. Reference pages must be on a separate sheet from the paper (not counted as one of the required pages). When required to use references, you must use peer-reviewed journals. Websites may only be used with prior approval from the instructor.
6. Papers should be uploaded in Canvas by the specified due date and time. You will receive a confirmation e-mail when your paper is successfully downloaded to the Canvas. It is your responsibility to be sure your paper has been downloaded properly. I will adhere to the policy on late assignments if an assignment is not received in Canvas by the time it is due.

Criteria for Assignments

Specific attention should be given to organization, paragraph and sentence structure, clarity, flow and correct citation using APA format. Before turning in any assignment, consider if the following criteria are met:

1. Validity, relevance, support of main points, ability to consider other perspectives.
2. Sources, quotations, and paraphrases appropriately identified; clear connection to course ideas/readings. Own thinking comes through.
3. Organization, clarity, logical flow, completed as required.
4. Has an introduction and conclusion, unless otherwise stated.
5. Paragraphs should have topic sentences that reflect the content of the paragraph and should have a smooth flow from one paragraph to the next.
6. Has depth, includes critical evaluation, is integrative-looks at the whole.
7. Appropriate grammar, spelling, format, etc.

Appealing a Grade:

Your goal for this and other courses should be to make the most of your learning experience, and not to simply “get an A.” Grade expectations should NOT be based on what you have received in other courses—this is never a legitimate argument for appealing a grade. If you have an issue with a grade that you receive in this course, please document the reasons for your appeal in writing and provide this to me. Your reasons for your appeal should include a discussion of (1) the extent to which you responded to assignment objectives, (2) the quality of your writing (to include grammar and spelling, organization, flow and clarity), and (3) your ability to demonstrate depth and critical thinking. If there is something about an assignment that is unclear to you, it is your job to bring this to my attention in advance of the due date. Students wishing to appeal a grade must provide me with the information requested no later than two weeks after the assignment has been returned to students. If you receive a grade and wish to appeal parts of that grade, I require a 24-hour time frame from the time you receive the grade until I will respond to information about the grade.

Code of Ethics, Student Rights and Responsibilities & Plagiarism

BSW and incoming MSW students read and signed electronic forms of the NASW Code of Ethics, the School of Social Work Plagiarism Policy and the Student Rights and Responsibilities. In doing so, they agreed that while in the BSW or MSW Program they would honor the NASW Code of Ethics and Student’s Rights and Responsibilities, as well as adhere to the Plagiarism Policy and that should they not do so, sanctions would be imposed. BSW and MSW students are expected to adhere to these policies in the classroom, in the field and in the preparation of course assignments.

Grade Appeals/Grievance Policy:

The process for appeal a final grade is set forth in the School of Social Work’s Student Rights and Responsibilities Handbook.
