

Understanding the Link Between Income and Child Maltreatment

Fall Public Child Welfare Dialogue with
Lawrence M. Berger, Ph.D.

Friday, November 21, 2014
10:00am—12:00pm
Wisconsin Institutes for Discovery, 3rd Floor

Dr. Berger's research focuses on the ways in which economic resources, socio-demographic characteristics, and public policies affect parental behaviors and child and family wellbeing. He is currently serving as the Chair of the UW-Madison School of Social Work Doctoral Program, and is the Director of the Institute for Research on Poverty.

The Public Child Welfare Training Program operates with federal funds made available through Title IV-E of the Social Security Act, which provides specified financial support for students committed to a career in public child welfare.
