RESEARCH ON THE TRANSITION TO ADULTHOOD FOR FOSTER YOUTH:

Implications for Policy and Practice

UW-MADISON SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK
Spring 2015 Public Child Welfare Dialogue

Mark Courtney is a Professor in the University of Chicago School of Social Service Administration. His fields of special interest are child welfare policy and services, the connection between child welfare services and other institutions serving vulnerable populations, and the professionalization of social work. His current work includes studies of the adult functioning of former foster children, experimental evaluation of independent living services for foster youth, reunification of foster children with their families, and the influence of juvenile courts on the operation of the child welfare system.

PUBLIC CHILD WELFARE
TRAINING PROGRAM

UW-MADISON SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

The Public Child Welfare Training Program operates with federal funds made available through Title IV-E of the Social Security Act, which provides specified financial support for students committed to a career in public child welfare.
