Agency Culture

The heart of our work at Catholic Charities is our belief in the dignity of every person, that each one of us has worth and is deserving of care and respect. It is our priority to serve people affected by poverty and it is our responsibility to work for the common good.

"Our Community Counseling Program increases access to mental health care for people of all faiths and backgrounds. In a safe space, we want people to realize their importance and let them know they are cared about. We want to give them the internal strength they need to grow."

Rachael Sheets, Director of Community Counseling

Agency Mission

We provide strength-based and evidence-based social service programs to anyone in need regardless of race, religion, country of origin, physical and intellectual ability, or financial circumstances. Each year, we make an impact in the lives of over 52,000 women, men, and children.

Agency Impact

Over 50,000 people positively impacted

Meet Elena

For Elena, the hope and excitement of high school graduation was overshadowed by anxiety and a lack of self-esteem. She was involved with a community group that suggested she call Catholic Charities’ Community Counseling program. Although scared and nervous, she bravely called to schedule her first session. Her Catholic Charities therapist helped her feel safe to talk about her feelings, trauma, and choices.

She shared her sense of abandonment from her biological father. She revealed an abusive relationship with a boyfriend and shame placed on her by her stepfather. Her therapist gave her guidance on ways to improve how she sees herself, learn from her experiences, and reduce her stress and anxiety. She continues to meet with her counselor and feels more relaxed, with less anxiety and more self-confidence to step into adulthood.
